Empire Conference

LONDON (CP) — Authoritative circles expressed surprise today at a Canberra dispatch received in London reporting that Prime Minister R. G. Menzies had told the Australian House of Representatives that establishment of an Imperial war cabinet is receiving consideration.

Two reliable sources suggested Mr. Menzies might have meant the calling of an Imperial war conference is being considered.

If the Prime Ministers of the various parts of the Commonwealth were summoned to meet in London or elsewhere the sessions would take on all the importance of an Imperial cabinet.

French Stop Trains

PARIS (AP) — The French tonight ordered suspension of main passenger trains, effective at midnight, on a number of important lines near the Italian border.

Hongkong Nervous

HONGKONG — The government today renewed its precautionary instructions to Occidental residents of this British Crown Colony for evacuation in event of necessity.

The move followed a new period of tension here and repeated rumors that Japan may occupy The Netherlands East Indies if the European war continues to expand.

Today's instructions were largely a repetition of those issued when the Japanese invaded South China, causing fear that Hongkong and its adjacent Kowloon leased territory might be occupied.

Nazis See Grave Days

BERNE, Switzerland (CP-Havas)—A warning to the German people that the Reich may have to face grave hours in its struggle with the powerfully-armed democracies was contained in a copy of the Berliner Boersenzeitung received here tonight.

"It will be necessary to have continued confidence in the German army chiefs even if graver days should come in the struggle undertaken against the two western democracies, who are armed to the teeth, and their satellities," it said.

Egypt Calls More Men

ALEXANDRIA (AP) — Egyptian authorities today ordered a partial blackout of the country continued indefinitely and called up an unspecified number of retired army and navy reserve officers as uncertainty over Italy's intentions persisted.

Nazis Take Amsterdam

LONDON (CP)—Reuters' news agency said tonight German troops had occupied Amsterdam.

Allied Fleet Manoeuvres

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (Reuters) — The Allied fleet in the eastern Mediterranean put to sea today for manoeuvres.

Italian Liner Sails

GENOA (AP) — The Italian liner Conte di Savoia sailed as scheduled for New York late today, indicating to many observers that Italy is not planning to go to war immediately.

The Danish Governor-General of Greenland, Claude Oldenow, is one of the liner's 1,000 passengers.

Fliers Wreck Tanks

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry tonight announced 150 Allied planes attacking German communication lines in the Low Countries had broken up "large tank and troop concentrations" and blocked roads.

German Planes Attack Italian Ship

LONDON (CP)—The Press Association said tonight the 3,059-ton Italian steamship Foscolo had sent a call for assistance after being attacked by German aircraft off the Dutch coast. The vessel's last port of call was Antwerp, Belgium.

Mexico Watches Spies

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Responsible government officials said today that Mexico, seeking to forestall activity by German and Soviet Russian undercover agents, is organizing the first bureau of military intelligence in the country's history.

690 Nazis Planes Down

LONDON (CP)—Six hundred and ninety German planes have been shot down since the invasion of the Low Countries began, an authoritative source estimated tonight.

Ex-Kaiser Travels

POTSDAM, Germany (AP)—Worries of the Hohenzollern family over its 81-year-old head, former Kaiser Wilhelm, were relieved partly today by a laconic telegram from General Wilhelm Dommes, chief of the Hohenzollern administration, saying: "Goal reached, all is well."

The telegram was filed in Emmerich, border station for trains going to Holland from Cologne and south Germany generally. It was thus not clear whether the ex-Kaiser still was at Doorn, his home in exile in the Netherlands.

Authorized sources said they had nothing concerning the former ruler, who, they declared, is not of interest to the present regime. They expressed the opinion, nevertheless, that he still was at Doorn and would not be molested anyway.

'Down With Jugoslavia'

SUSAK, Jugoslavia (AP) — Italians shouting "down with Jugoslavia!" stoned Jugoslav homes and business offices today in Fiume, Italy, across the border from Susak.

BIG ADDITIONS TO U.S. FORCES URGED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of a war with Japan, the Senate naval committee said today, would be so great that the United States, "by every means in our power," should "avoid the necessity of having to undertake it."

Although expressing the opinion Japan was vulnerable and could be "rendered impotent" by a naval defeat, the committee said:

"A war fought across the breadth of so vast an ocean as the Pacific is fraught with very great difficulties."

The United States, the committee said in reporting a bill to expand the U.S. fleet by 11 per cent, need not fear aggression so long as it maintained a 5 to 3 ratio over the Japanese.

Recommending expansion of fleet and air bases, the report declared the United States must have a navy capable of controlling the sea approaches to the country and which must be supplemented by a strong land-based air force.

The United States, the report said, should complete or undertake the construction of the air and submarine bases recommended by the Hepburn (naval) board at Unalaska, Sitka and Kodiak, Alaska.

"Our army must be adequate to defend the bases from which our fleet and our aircraft operate. We must, in addition, have an air force capable of being concentrated on either coast, superior in number to the greatest number of carrier-borne and catapulted aircraft possessed by any naval power or conceivable combination of powers, and powerful enough to prevent an enemy from establishing in either ocean a base in this hemisphere while our fleet is engaging the enemy's fleet."

Mob of Youths In Rome Broken Up

ROME (AP)—Several hundred students who tried to march on the Jugoslav legation here for a demonstration today were dispersed by police in nearby streets after they had threatened to mob a restaurant proprietor who advised them to "stop clowning and go back to school."

Italian troops had been posted at the legation earlier in the day—the first occasion that any show of military protection had been made at the legation since the pro-German, anti-Ally demonstrations began last weekend.

Surrender Signed

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command announced tonight "the capitulation of the Dutch army was signed at 11 a.m. today by the German commander-in-chief and the commander-in-chief of the Dutch army and navy."

More Airmen Needed

LONDON (CP) — The Air Ministry today renewed its call for volunteers, saying "there still is room for more men."

1. Nazi forces pour in from north to take over and Holland has capitulated. 2. Allied forces resist Nazi drive on Antwerp. 3. Rotterdam surrendered to Germans. 4. Albert Canal penetrated. Other points mentioned in fighting are marked.

Nazis 'Collide' With British

French Abandon 'War of Position'

Brussels Thrust Held at Louvain

By DREW MIDDLETON

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN BELGIUM (AP) — The German offensive aiming at Brussels and the heart of Belgium through the Louvain "Gate," collided today with the British Expeditionary Force, which was heavily engaged throughout the long, hot day. The British troops, holding positions in and around Louvain, threw thousands of tons of high explosives and metal into hundreds of German tanks and armored cars, screening the advancing German columns on the roads of Belgium.

The operations opened last night when a French town well in the rear was bombed heavily and scores of civilians killed or wounded.

FLIERS SCORE

As the big battle of the war appears imminent, the situation has taken a favorable turn by the rise to power of the Allied air arm, which has been fighting the Germans to a standstill.

It is admittedly too early to gauge the results of yesterday's air battles, but Royal Air Force pilots and gunners felt today that both their fighters and bombers came off best in the engagements which brought down almost a dozen German bombers and spread high explosives on German troop concentrations, bridges, depots and railheads far into the third Reich's hitherto inviolate territory.

EFFICIENCY DISPLAYED

Tommies of the British Expeditionary Force followed orders calmly, going about their tasks as if the whine of German shells and the thunder of Nazi bombers did not exist.

At many points privates idled, smoking cigarettes in the sunshine by the side of powerful tanks and field guns. Others ate off tables pulled from bombed and deserted houses, the inhabitants of which had long since fled.

In fields churned by four days of movement of men and machines, soldiers slept with helmets over their faces.

Even the troops were under cover. Snouts of anti-tank guns appeared at every corner, but to the casual eye a nearby town appeared to be held by only a handful of men.

Near one of the anti-tank guns were two bombed houses. In one the family's breakfast still lay on the table—half-eaten slices of bread, half-filled cups of coffee.

On a wall, at a crazy angle, hung a picture of a young man in the Belgian uniform of 1914-18 with the inscription "Mort pour la Patrie" (died for his country).

On every road there were Belgian refugees—old and very young, the lame, the blind, the weak.

Old bicycles, oxcarts and donkey wagons were their conveyances. One woman was pushing a baby carriage containing a fat, smiling baby and a pile of household goods. Another wore absurd bright red slippers with fluffy pompons as she trudged through the heat and dust.

A British officer estimated he had seen at least 70,000 in two days of travel.

Sedan Command 'Reorganized'

PARIS (CP-Havas) — The French high command today reorganized the command in the Sedan area and launched immediate counter-attacks against German forces which broke through at three points near that strategic northern town, a war ministry spokesman said tonight.

The counter-attacks were still proceeding at 6 p.m. (9 a.m. P.S.T.)

The German motorized forces which broke through near Sedan and penetrated the French defence system were supported by planes. A general battle involving German and French tanks, infantry and planes then began.

A military spokesman said it was possible the German motorized columns had advanced "fairly deeply" into the French defence system, but they were not backed by large infantry forces, the German infantry having been engaged by French infantry.

"In face of the new situation," the military spokesman said, "the French command is abandoning the war of position and is beginning an open field war of movement."

The Germans today threw greater forces than previously against the Meuse line between Namur and Sedan, the greatest effort being made in the Sedan area where the break-through occurred.

In an earlier statement the French high command said German motorized units today "penetrated deeply into the French defence system" at Sedan.

Sedan is a French town near the Belgian and Luxembourg borders. It is not part of the Maginot Line system of fortifications.

German tanks broke through Allied position on the west bank of the river Meuse, it was stated at tonight's French war ministry press conference.

The Allied forces withdrew to new positions.

"The war of movement has begun," said a war ministry spokesman. "The situation is serious, but not critical."

Tonight's communique from the French high command said:

"At several points there were violent enemy attacks, with tanks, against Belgian, British and French troops, from Antwerp to northwest of Namur. All were repulsed.

"On the Meuse between Mezieres and Namur the enemy succeeded in crossing the river at a number of points and fighting continues.

"In the Sedan region, where the enemy had made some progress, counter-attacks are under way with tanks and bomber aircraft.

"Farther east there was artillery action.

"Our air force continued its reconnaissance. Pursuit aircraft intervened notably to protect bombing missions. During the engagements 11 enemy machines were shot down."

Communications Cut

NEW YORK (AP) — Western Union and Commercial cables today reported all cable communication with the Netherlands and Belgium was cut off suddenly during the morning.

FARRIS, McGEER BACK IN RACE

OTTAWA — Wendell Farris, K.C., and G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P., who last week were reported to have dropped out of the running for the vacant B.C. Court of Appeal judgeship, were said today to have re-entered the race.

It was explained that Mr. Farris, who is still here, had a letter written months ago by a member of the government, promising him first call on the judgeship. Should Mr. Farris not exercise his option on the office, it is understood that Mr. McGeer is willing to reconsider his recent statement in Vancouver and would resign from the House of Commons to take the judgeship.

Announcement of the appointment, expected May 6, has been held up because of developments.

Belgian Government Stays in Brussels

LONDON (CP)—A Belgian radio announcement heard in London today said the Belgian government was staying in Brussels and the Allied embassies also were remaining.

This proclamation was broadcast in connection with the Netherlands' capitulation:

"The defeat of our northern neighbors will not discourage us.

"Our army, supported by our French and British allies, stubbornly is resisting the attacks of the enemy.

"Belgium cannot be defeated. Justice, our cause, is bound to triumph after the dire test through which we are passing."

Fight Off English Coast

LONDON (CP)—Machine gun fire was heard this morning near the mouth of the Humber River, along the east coast of England.

Speedy Anti-fifth Column Action

Britain's New 'Parashooters' Await Nazi Parachutists

LONDON (CP)—Britain's second army of "local defence volunteers" was thousands strong a few hours after a first appeal was made today for men between the ages of 16 and 65 to protect the homeland against parachute troops.

The rush to practically every police station throughout the nation statted at 6 a.m. In some centres officials ran out of forms. They promised to carry on throughout the night, entering the names on temporary lists. The most popular nickname for the volunteers thus for coined was "parashooters."

One of the first volunteers was Capt. T. S. Smith, last year's King's Prize winner at Bisley. Many rifle club members enrolled en bloc to instruct tyro recruits.

Rt. Rev. Henry A. Wilson, Bishop of Chelmsford, who warned against the danger of a parachute invasion months ago, was in the queue at Chelmsford.

At Brighton, Hugh Pakenham, 76, a retired sergeant-major, was told he was too old. "Rubbish!" he roared. "I'm sound of mind and limb and can handle a gun with the youngest." They gave him a form.

The applicants, men not subject to regular conscription, will be stationed mostly in small towns, villages and sparsely populated areas after receiving arms and uniforms. They are being enrolled for the duration of the war.

Officials said that by far the largest number of volunteers were ex-servicemen, ranging from university professors to bricklayers.

In Northern Ireland, Vicount Craigavan, the Prime Minister, moved to have his fully trained special constabulary, 1,250 strong, incorporated in the new force.

Attack on England Next?

LONDON (AP) — German threats of an attack on the United Kingdom from newly-acquired bases in the Netherlands spurred action after an announcement that the Dutch commander-in-chief had ordered his troops to cease fighting.

The threats, broadcast by the Berlin radio and picked up here, heightened anxiety caused by the latest developments in the lowlands and spurred recruiting of a new home front army to fight a possible invasion by Nazi parachute troops.

"INSULARITY ENDED"

The Nazi announcer boasted that "German planes are already within easy reach of the important English port of Harwich"—which is less than 125 miles from the Dutch mainland—and added "More than that, they have bases for direct attack against the whole of England. . . . In this age of modern warfare the insularity of the British Isles has ended."

'IN NEAREST FUTURE'

Only a few hours after the high command had announced that the conquest of Holland was all but completed, a German spokesman said that mass air operations on the British Isles could be expected "in the nearest future."

He pointed out that the invasion of the Lowlands had given Germany air bases witnin 185 miles from the English coast. The inference was permitted that Nazis would not overlook such an opportunity to stab at the home defences of the enemy across the North Sea.

The statement that air attacks on Britain might be expected immediately was substantiated by inspired comment in all Berlin morning newspapers today.

The Lokal Anzeiger, commenting on the probability of the erection of "air fields which will certainly threaten England." The Borsen Zeitung said "the air threat against the most important points in England will now be multiplied."

The Nazi high command claimed that two new enemy cruisers and one destroyer were sunk, another cruiser hit and set afire, a 25,000-ton troop transport struck by a heavy bomb and set afire, and an 8,000-ton transport damaged badly.

Delegates re-elected David H. Smith of Portland secretary-treasurer. Directors for the coming season include H. F. Gates of the Vancouver Sun and Albert Jones of the Victoria Times.

SHARE WAR COST

LONDON — Britain, Belgium and France have concluded facilities for sharing in the expenses of the war, it was announced officially early today.

Great Britain and France some time ago agreed to promote the war on a 40-60 basis, with Britain footing the larger share. This agreement will be altered by Belgium's agreement to share cost of the war.

Full Internment Not Planned Yet

Fullest co-operation of the B.C. government in any policy that may be initiated by Ottawa to combat "5th column" activities in Canada was pledged today by Attorney-General Wismer.

He pointed out that the federal authorities are administrating the War Measures Act, but that every possible aid of B.C. resources was promised at the outbreak of war.

Meanwhile in Ottawa, in response to requests of Canadian Legion branches in B.C. for internment of all enemy aliens, Col. H. Stethem, assistant director of internment operations, said that "no sweeping internment of enemy aliens in Canada is contemplated at present, but the situation is being watched closely."

There are now 400 aliens in Western Canada internment camps.

It had been suggested, he said, the grip on the alien problem might be tightened up, but so far there has been no change in the government's policy followed since the war broke out.

"Any manifestation of German sympathy or subversive activity will lead to internment, but there is nothing planned along the lines of the sweeping internment in Britain to meet the possibility of Nazi parachute troops landing in England," he said.

WANT IMMEDIATE ACTION

Col. Stethem said the resolution from the lower mainland Zone Council of the Canadian Legion would be dealt with in due course. It asked for immediate internment of enemy aliens and constant supervision of former enemy aliens who have been naturalized.

This resolution was endorsed in Victoria last night by the Pro Patria Branch of the Legion.

The Pro Patria Branch also passed a resolution to be forwarded to the district council meeting of the Legion tonight in the Britannia Branch.

This calls for internment of all enemy aliens, that until this is done all enemy aliens on relief rolls be struck off, and that restrictions on aliens regarding transportation and carrying cameras, as enforced in Britain, be instituted here.

It was also decided to ask the district council to organize a veterans' parade and demonstration in Beacon Hill Park as a protest against what was termed an "apathetic attitude" in Canada toward the war effort.

Members voiced the view that such a demonstration would be a stimulus toward a greater effort in the war commensurate with the country's resources and manpower.

SIXTH COLUMN

In Vancouver a patriotic group of ex-service men was reported organizing a "sixth column" to oppose any Trojan horse tactics in this country.

A mass meeting will be held in Vancouver Thursday night to forward the scheme.

According to the last census there were 16,986 persons of German racial origin in British Columbia in 1931. Of these 14,106 were more than 10 years old and the rest below 10.

Out of the total, 12,123 were of foreign birth, the rest having been born in Canada.

The increase or decrease in the German population in the last nine years is not indicated in official publications.

Largest centre of German settlement in 1931 was the Greater Vancouver area which had 7,617, of whom 4,371 were in Vancouver proper. Vancouver Island had 1,480, of whom 457 were in Victoria.

Figures for other parts of the province include 2,500 in south Okanagan, 1,446 in West Kootenay, 943 in North Okanagan, 1,245 in the Cariboo and adjacent areas, and 468 in the Peace River and adjacent districts.

HOLLAND'S FLEET JOINS ALLIES

PARIS (CP)—Holland's fleet, almost intact, has joined the Allied naval forces, F N. Van Kleffens, Dutch foreign minister, said here today.

He said resistance was continuing in the coastal provinces of Zeeland, and that troops which escaped into Belgium would enter the Allied armies. (The Dutch legation in Paris said Dutch troops driven into Belgium from southern Holland would serve as the kernel of a reconstituted Netherlands army to be organized by the government-in-exile).

Although most of the Netherlands has fallen to the Germans, Van Kleffens said, the Dutch empire still stands and all its resources will be placed at the disposal of the Allies. He said Dutch were volunteering their services throughout the world.

Allies Inflict Large Losses On Nazis in Sedan Sector

PARIS (CP-Havas) — Today's counter-attack by the Allies in the Sedan region was the second within 24 hours.

By AXEL DE HOLSTEIN

German troops trying to force a passage across the Meuse River at various points from north of Dinant in Belgium to south of Sedan in France were hurled back with enormous losses yesterday, a French military spokesman said.

The Battle of the Meuse, begun yesterday when the main German army which had crossed Luxembourg reached the river, was in full progress today along a 150-mile front.

The heaviest fighting was in the vicinity of Sedan, where major forces on land and in the air were engaged.

BOTTLED UP

The Germans established a foothold on the left bank just south of Sedan and their troops held a pocket about four miles deep. Late yesterday afternoon the French counter-attacked at that point with tremendous forces on land and in the air and the Germans were forced back into the river from the eastern half of the pocket. The rest were bottled up.

This counter-attack was led by one of the most brilliant general officers of the French army and was supported on a gigantic scale by Allied aviation. Literally thousands of bombs of all calibres were rained on the German troops, on the pontoon bridge they had thrown across the river and on their reinforcing columns on the other side.

NAZIS PAY DEARLY

The attack by French and British planes was kept up unremittingly all afternoon and throughout the night. According to staff officers, the losses inflicted on the Germans were enormous. The battle is demonstrating in a magnificent manner, they said, the superiority of Allied equipment and personnel.

The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

BRITAIN NEXT

The Dutch army, overwhelmed by Nazi mechanical superiority, surrendered today, except in the little southwestern province of Zeeland and Britain braced herself for a possible German aerial onslaught.

Thousands of Britons flocked to recruiting offices to enlist in an unpaid home guard which will be armed with rifles and machine guns to kill any Nazi parachutists who may be dropped from the skies.

It was considered well within the bounds of possibility that they would be needed now that Germany has possession of Dutch coastal territory within less than 200 miles of England.

In Berlin Nazis boasted they would attempt such raids in the near future.

BATTLE

Interest in the active theatre of war, however, is centred today on the gigantic battle of the Meuse in which the forces of Britain, France, Belgium and Germany are engaged, fighting with the most modern mechanized ground equipment and thousands of aircraft.

On the outcome of this action, perhaps weeks or even months hence, may hinge the decision in the whole war, for it may be possible, as Leon Blum told the British labor party convention at Bournemouth today, that the German government and German people cannot survive a single major defeat.

ANOTHER SEDAN

The former French "popular front" premier told his audience the democracies could take a defeat and rise to fight on.

To the French a victory in that battle would be doubly welcome in that it would avenge the defeat on the same ground 70 years ago of Napoleon III, which resulted in the fall of the third empire and the seizure by Germany of the rich French vineyard provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

It was at Sedan that the last French emperor, dying of cancer, rouged and corsetted to deceive his men, saw a Bismarck style "blood-and-iron" German war machine trample a weary, ill-equipped and badly misled French force.

TOWARDS NAZI EXHAUSTION

In the battle the Germans, as now, threw themselves into the fight with blitzkrieg daring, apparently caring nothing for their own losses, but counting on the weight of numbers and speed for victory.

That time the blitzkrieg worked. This time Allied experts believe it will fail. The Allies chose the battleground which spreads L-shaped north and south of Sedan and chose it carefully, falling back on the Meuse slowly, giving time for reinforcements to come up from the rear and putting the river between themselves and the enemy.

Along that river, they hope and believe, they can smash the waves of Germans as they arrive. The outcome of the battle which some believe will prove the biggest in history may see the exhaustion of Germany.

Many observers were surprised today when Italy suddenly called off anti-Allied demonstrations and turned the heat on Jugoslavia with manifestations of stone-throwing hostility in Fiume, border point seized after the first Great War in an unordered naval action by the late Poet Gabriel d'Annunzio.

Italy's object, believed originally to be the diversion of part of the Allies' attention while Hitler worked in the north, became less clear, and some suggest it was based merely on the old ground that a citizen in a totaliarian country has to hate somebody to be a good citizen.

However, none gave up the notion that Italy might jump into the war on Hitler's side at any moment.

Zeeland Still Fights After Dutch Surrender

AMSTERDAM (AP) — The Netherlands surrendered the way today for German occupation of all but one of her 11 provinces.

Under orders from General Henri Gerard Winkelman, the commander-in-chief, the Dutch last night laid down their arms everywhere but in Zeeland, low-lying island province in the southwest which has, in the port of Vlissingen (Flushing), one of the main points of sea traffic with Britain.

There was nothing else the Dutch could do after five days of stubborn but foredoomed defence. So the surrender was ordered by the 64-year-old commander, highest government representative since the flight of the queen and the government to England two days ago.

The Netherlands army was unequal to the task of fighting off Germany's high-geared, up-to-the-minute war machine. Its defences had been pierced and outflanked by the lightning German columns.

In view of all the circumstances and to prevent further bloodshed, Gen. Winkleman ordered his forces to cease firing, and commanded the troops and the people to co-operate in the preservation of order "until the arrival of the German regular troops."

(Reuters' News Agency intercepted a radio message on the wavelength of the Netherlands Hilversum station today from the German consul-general in Amsterdam to the foreign office in Berlin. (The message said German troops would "not encounter any difficulties when entering Amsterdam," that the population would be "calm," and that the German forces would be met on the outskirts of the city by "a representative of the commander of the Amsterdam garrison and a representative of the Lord Mayor of Amsterdam, as well as the German consul-general or a representative of him.")

With the Netherlands homeland now under German domination, Queen Wilhelmina and her government in London will continue to rule over Holland's overseas possessions about 790,000 square miles inhabited by more than 70,000,000 persons on two sides of the earth.

100,000 DUTCH KILLED IN BATTLE

PARIS (CP)—E. N. Van Kleffens, Dutch foreign minister, today estimated at 100,000 the number of Dutch soldiers killed in the fighting of the last five days.

These losses, he said, were a quarter of the number of men mobilized.

(Some observers believed Van Kleffens, a civilian, may have overestimated the death rate. If his figures are accurate, losses were many times greater than death rates in the first Great War, when 25 per cent casualties, wounded as well as dead, were considered exceptionally high for large forces and the ratio of dead to wounded was one to four.)

Van Kleffens' statement on the losses was part of his government's first review of the campaign which forced capitulation of most of the Netherlands in five days.

The Netherlands foreign minister arrived here from London last night.

He said that prolongation of operations in Holland had been decided against, with "millions of souls menaced with extermination," but that "everyone knows the tenacity of the Dutch—I am convinced we will gain final victory."

Germans Claim Magnot Breached

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communique this forenoon said:

"The 'Fortification of Holland' has capitulated because of the hopeless fight against superior attacks by German troops on land and from the air. In Belgium our divisions, sharply pursuing the retreating enemy, reached a position on the Dyle River.

"A crossing of the Meuse was forced on a broad front between Namur and Givet. French counter-attacks with tanks on the western embankment were repulsed.

"German fighting planes and destroyer plane units participated in this fight, destroying a great number of armored cars.

FIGHT AT SEDAN

"By the crossing of the Meuse in the Sedan sector, the northwestern extension of France's fortification system—the Maginot Line—has been pierced in closest collaboration with the air force. Here, too, French counter-attacks were frustrated with heavy losses for the enemy.

(Sedan is considerably north of the extension of the Maginot Line, which would indicate the German claim is unfounded.)

"During the attacks on the Saar front the first lieutenant of an infantry regiment, Hans Schoene, and his company distinguished themselves by extraordinary bravery in storming a commanding position in the rocky hill south of Primasens.

AIR BATTLES

"The main weight of German air operations yesterday lay in attacking the rear connections of the enemy, his transport roads and assembly stations.

"Enemy efforts to hamper German fighting activity through operations of strong flying forces were repulsed with heavy losses for the opponent without much interference of our command in the air.

"Over 70 British and French fighting and pursuit planes were shot down at one point alone. Total losses of the opponent on May 14 amounted to over 200 planes, of which about 170 were shot down in air fights, 17 by anti-aircraft and the rest destroyed on the ground. (These figures are several times greater than the estimates available from Allied sources.)

"Thirty-five of our own planes are missing.

"Armed reconnaissance before the Netherlands coast yielded great successes. As previously reported in a special announcement, two cruisers and one destroyer were sunk by bomb hits, an additional cruiser was struck by a bomb, one merchant ship of 29,000 tons and four transports were destroyed.

(These claims were not substantiated in London dispatches.)

"The defence fight around Narvik continues."

PROPAGANDA

Hour after hour, starting early in the morning, all German radio stations broke in on their programs with appeals to the Belgian soldiers to lay down their arms.

In Flemish and in French the soldiers were told that Germany does not wish to harm the Belgian people. The announcers repeated the claim that the German invasion of Belgium was brought about because Great Britain and France were getting ready to attack Germany through Belgium.

Success of the Nazi forces in the Netherlands was hailed by morning papers throughout the country. One commentator described the achievement of Adolf Hitler's military machine, in bringing down a "well-armed nation of over 8,000,000" in a little more than 100 hours," as "unique in history."

THREATS AGAINST BRITAIN

More than one newspaper commentator pointed to the fact that, with Dutch airports in German hands, the war now is closer to Britain.

"The threat to the British Isles has advanced further," said the Hamburger Fremdenblatt, which added that the distance between the Hook of Holland, coast town just west of Rotterdam, and the English port of Harwich is only 125 miles, and that it is only 156 miles to Harwich from Vlissingen (Flushing), in the southwest province of Zeeland.

Military observers expressed hope that resistance by the Dutch garrisons in Zeeland would last only a day or two longer.

In the opinion of the military observers, only the Dutch coastline must be guarded closely against any eventuality (meaning a possible British attempt to land troops there).

Therefore, they claimed, strong detachments now can be set in motion to lend support to the drive into Belgium.

FIERCE AIR BATTLE RAGES OVER SEDAN

LONDON (CP) — An Air Ministry communique today said:

"In a great battle which developed at Sedan and the crossings of the Meuse yesterday, Royal Air Force bombers, escorted by fighters, went into action in co-operation with French forces.

"The Air Ministry announces that the Royal Air Force destroyed permanent bridges and two pontoon bridges and, with anti-aircraft guns, brought down 15 German planes in a terrific battle near Sedan. British losses were placed at 35 planes.

"Repeated low-flying attacks on enemy troops and tank concentrations were made.

"These were highly successful, and valuable assistance was given to the French army.

"Two permanent bridges and two pontoon bridges were destroyed, and at least 15 enemy aircraft were brought down by our fighters and anti-aircraft fire.

"In the fury of these engagements, detailed reports from aircraft crews cannot be expected.

"Heavy losses must have been sustained in attacking vital objectives which were strongly defended by anti-aircraft fire and enemy fighters.

"However, our losses, which were not considered excessive in view of the results obtained, were 35 aircraft.

"Several crews from these aircraft have already returned to the airdrome."

Germans Take Over Dutch Radio Station

NEW YORK (AP) — German military authorities took over the Dutch radio station at Amsterdam at 9.08 a.m. (12.48 a.m., P.S.T.) today, informed sources said. The transmitter is at The Hague, controlled by wire from Amsterdam.

Fishermen Drown

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP) — Two men were drowned and a third was missing in the unexplained destruction of a Westport crab fishing boat either yesterday or last night off Grays Harbor.

Two bodies supported by life-belts were recovered today near the mouth of the Copalis River north of the harbor bar, having floated in from sea. A third man was believed aboard, but this had not been definitely confirmed.

Lothian Speaks—

30 Days May Decide Course of War

NEW YORK (CP) — The next month of fighting may determine the course of the war, in the opinion of the Marquess of Lothian, British ambassador to the United States.

"The next 30 days may determine whether there is to be any effective barrier left to the domination of all Europe, Asia and Africa by the dictatorships, leaving America isolated and alone to champion a free way of life, or whether Hitler's method of conquest by violence and fraud receives its first serious check and mankind, though the struggle will be far from over, begins to breathe more freely again," he said.

Lord Lothian addressed the English Speaking Union and devoted the major portion of his speech to an illustration of the "remarkable stream of culture" upon which that union is based.

"There are not only the two main parent rivers, from Britain and the United States," he said, ". . . . there are also the new streams coming in from Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India and many other lands

GREAT POEMS

"Perhaps the best poem written in the last war, 'In Flanders Fields,' was written by a Canadian, Col. (John) MacRae. South Africa has given us Olive Schreiner's 'Story of an African Farm.' From Australia we have Adam Lindsay Gordon and an extraordinary number of great singers."

David Low, the great cartoonist, and Katharine Mansfield, the novelist, are New Zealanders, he went on. India has produced Rabindranath Tagore, the poet. Srinivastra Sastri, an East Indian, is "the greatest orator in English I have ever listened to," and Mahatma Gandhi, "one of the greatest men of our time, habitually speaks the most admirable and lucid English."

FAMOUS WRITERS

These were the supplementary streams. The main parent rivers were from Britain and the United States "with immortals like Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Dickens, Thackeray and Kipling on one side of the Atlantic and Emerson, Hawthorne, Mark Twain, Walt Whitman, Edgar Allen Poe and their modern descendents on the other."

"English-speaking culture beyond all question has the most diversified basis in the world today," he said. In politics he singled out for mention in Canada Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Robert Borden "who was one of Lloyd George's most sagacious advisers during the Great War."

"How many people know that Lord Rutherford who died a year ago, one of the world's greatest physicists, was a New Zealander, or that Sir William Osler or Admiral Sims (commander of the United States battle fleet in the last war) came from Canada?"

Lord Lothian predicted history will some day class Woodrow Wilson "in that remarkable company" of United States statesmen, George Washington, Alexander Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson and "the greatest democratic statesman the world has ever seen, Abraham Lincoln."

NOT EXCLUSIVE

English-speaking civilization is not the monopoly of any race or nation, he said, and for that reason is in its very being the denial "of those exclusive doctrines like the Communist doctrine of necessary ascendency of the 'master' German race, the omnipotence of 'blood and earth,' anti-Semitism and the other horrible political religions which are seeking to dominate mankind by violence."

Turning to the war, Lord Lothian said some of the British "defects in prescience, promptness in action, and preparedness, have been exposed" through the Norwegian campaign.

"I have no doubt there are follies and stupidities as well as crimes on the Nazi side—I am sure that Hitler would not dare to hold a solemn inquest upon them, as we did last week."

AIR NOT MASTER

Norway had shown the argument that a country would ensure its safety by refusing all help or co-operation was a fallacy. "In this event we were unable to save Norway. But we were able to prove that though almost every circumstance was adverse, the air was not master of the sea."

Lord Lothian reviewed briefly the Empire air training scheme and said Hitler evidently meant to try to gain a decision before these new resources are ready and to induce the other military dictatorships "to come in this year also on his side, in order to weigh the balance against us."

"The issue is nakedly clear. On the one side are those ideals of individual freedom, national self-government and democracy which have slowly evolved under Christian influence. . . . On the other side is a system which respects none of these spiritual values . . .

"I have no doubt that in the end freedom will prevail."

Mexicans Believe U.S. Will Fight

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican government, according to a high official of the foreign ministry, is convinced the United States will enter the war on the side of the Allies in the near future and believes Mexico should begin preparing for that eventuality.

If and when the United States goes into the conflict, this official said, Mexico will observe a "benevolent neutrality" and will collaborate with the United States as fully as possible without involving herself.

Nazis Sheltered In Holland Turned on Dutch

By GERAUD JOUVE

ABOARD A BRITISH DESTROYER BOUND FOR ENGLAND (CP-Havas)—The terrible activity of Nazi "fifth columns" was causing consternation in The Netherlands' greatest cities when I escaped to a British warship in the harbor of The Hague Monday night.

Snipers concealed in buildings and on rooftops—many of them "good" Germans who had sought "refuge" in the hospitable Netherlands as enemies of the Nazi regime—methodically picked off the Dutch in the streets below.

The high command, which had left its rear unguarded, was forced to withdraw a full division from the front to save Amsterdam and The Hague from "fifth column" revolts such as the one which doomed Rotterdam.

On Monday night I set out for the harbor in a procession which included the British and Polish minsters to The Hague and the Norwegian charge d'affaires.

My taxi and those following it were separated from the leading cars at a corner. We rushed to catch them. When someone cried "halt!" one car failed to come promptly enough to a stop.

Onlookers, apparently thinking we were Nazis, leaped on the running boards. One Frenchwoman was struck on the temple and instantly killed.

An ambulance was called at once. Before it could arrive my chaffeur collapsed.

SHELTERED BEHIND CAR

There was nothing to do but return to the foreign ministry. We heard the crack and whine of rifle bullets as we crept through the darkened streets. As we awaited a second escort on the square between the ministers of justice and foreign affairs the air around us was suddenly filled with bullets. We took refuge behind an overturned car. Sentries sheltered by trees fired back at the flashes of the snipers' guns on the rooftops.

The battle had not yet ceased when our escort arrived. With one armored car before us and another following, we made our way past guerrilla-infested blocks. Treachery, one of the Nazis' strongest weapons, delivered Rotterdam and the Waalhaven air field to the Nazis just as it had opened the door to Norwegian ports.

Germans scattered throughout the country emerged at a given signal. While Nazi planes roared overhead their agents on the grouud massacred or disarmed the Dutch guards, seizing essential liaison points for French, Belgian and Dutch troops.

The air raid siren was screeching as we reached The Hague harbor. Overhead a swarm of German bombers dropped their deadly loads.

We boarded the destroyer safely and put to sea. One of the planes followed us for a long while, but did not attack again.

As we drew away we could see the flames of blazing oil reservoirs licking at the sky. Farther to the south the red glare of countless fires showed where Rotterdam lay.

Australian Industry Aids Allies in War

OTTAWA (CP) — Importance of Australian industry in the Allied war effort was emphasized before the Canadian Club here by Sir William Glasgow, Australian High Commissioner to Canada.

"Today, Australia exports more and better wool than any other country in the world, and, in addition, sends abroad each year considerable quantities of wheat, wine, dairy produce, frozen beef and lamb, minerals and dried fruits," he said.

"On the other hand, she is now almost self-sufficient with regard to manufacturers, and actually exports a large quantity of manufactured goods.

"Destroyers, modern fighting aircraft, anti-aircraft guns, machine guns, shells of all types and sizes, and all varieties of radio equipment are amongst the commodities being made there today, and tens of thousands of tons of steel are being sent in various forms to Great Britain."

Pershing Urges U.S. Prepare for War

WASHINGTON (AP) — General John J. Pershing believes "every energy in this country" should be devoted to preparedness "against the possibility of war."

In a formal statement, issued soon after his return to Washington from a winter vacation, he said "none of us can tell when we may become involved in the struggle now raging with such tremendous fury in Europe."

600 NAZI PLANES DOWNED IN 5 DAYS

LONDON (CP)—Allied airmen and anti-aircraft batteries have destroyed nearly 600 German planes in the western war zone during the last five days, reliable sources estimated here.

The Air Ministry yesterday placed Allied losses at ¼ of the Nazi losses.

The Nazi plane casualties were divided as follows:

Downed by British and French airmen in air combat—305 machines.

Downed by Dutch and Belgian fliers or by anti-aircraft units of the four Allies—about 140.

Destroyed on the ground by air bombardments—about 150, including a great number of transport craft.

U.S. TO LAUNCH BATTLESHIP JUNE 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Geared to the highest production speed in its history, the Philadelphia navy yard will launch the mightiest battleship of the United States fleet June 1, then lay the keel of one still larger by October 27.

Rear-admiral A. E. Watson, commandant of the yard, said launching of the $65,000,000 Washington, a ship of 35,000 tons, had been advanced more than a month ahead of schedule, despite other construction at the yard, and the reconditioning of 32 destroyers.

First United States battleship to be launched since 1921, the Washington, with a speed of 28 to 30 knots and nine 16-inch guns, is described as "far more powerful than any other battleship in our navy."

Her twin-sister ship, the North Carolina, will be launched June 13 at the Brooklyn navy yard.

Admiral Watson also disclosed that work already has been started on the materials for the New Jersey, one of two 45,000-ton battleships more powerful than any before designed for the U.S. navy.

Questions War Effort

OTTAWA (CP)—Extent of the Dominion government's co-operation with the Allies in prosecuting the war will be a subject of detailed questioning in the House of Commons, according to Hon. R. B. Hanson, temporary House leader of the Conservative Party.

Mr. Hanson said he had "some evidence" that Canada's war effort was lagging.

C. C. Casselman of Prescott, Ont., member for Grenville-Dundas, would remain chief party whip, Mr. Hanson said.

Communist Party Declared Illegal In Dominion

OTTAWA (CP) — Mr. Justice Edgar Chevrier of the Ontario Supreme Court today declared the Communist Party of Canada to be "an illegal organization."

The decision came after he had sentenced three Ottawa youths, convicted of publishing and circulating anti-war pamphlets in contravention of the Defence of Canada regulations, to prison terms.

Harry Binder, 26-year-old former parliamentary Press Gallery representative of the banned Toronto Communist paper, Daily Clarion, was sentenced to three years in prison and a fine of $2,000.

The judge set the alternative to the fine at an additional year in prison.

Louis Binder, 22-year-old brother of Harry and a former private in the Royal Canadian Engineers, was sentenced to 2½ years in penitentiary and fined $1,000, the alternative to the fine being an additional six months in penitentiary.

Arthur Roy Saunders, 27-year-old Dominion civil servant, drew the same sentence as Louis Binder.

ASKED BY GOVERNMENT

Following conviction of the men by an assize court jury yesterday, C. L. Snyder, Ontario deputy Attorney-General, presented the motion for the ban on the Communist Party.

Mr. Justice Chevrier, in giving his decision, said that "in accordance with the Defence of Canada regulations and in my discretion I see fit to declare the Communist Party of Canada an illegal organization."

The judge told the three accused their crimes were "not against any individual, but striking at the very heart and soul of society itself."

"INSIDIOUS POISON"

All three were gifted with intelligence, His Lordship continued, yet that intelligence had been perverted to an unworthy purpose such as the "distillation and spreading of an insidious poison."

Their crime of "spreading the evil word," he remarked, was "all the more deadly because it was easily assimilated by the uneducated." Their efforts had been "directed at the ruination of an Empire presently engaged in the supreme sacrifice."

After the court rose, Walter Martin of the Ontario Attorney-General's department at Toronto, said that as far as he knew no steps had yet been taken to round up known Communists.

Most Communist leaders have been inconspicuous of late, he recalled, and the majority of Canadian Communists would undoubtedly "go underground" the moment they heard of today's decision outlawing their party.

J. A. Glen Named Commons Speaker

OTTAWA (CP)—J. A. Glen, Liberal member-elect for Marquette, Man., will be nominated by the government as Speaker of the House of Commons when Parliament convenes tomorrow.

It also was announced that Thomas Vien, Liberal member-elect for Montreal-Outremont, will be nominated as chairman of the committee of the whole House, or deputy speaker.

Mr. Glen will succeed Hon. Pierre F. Casgrain, Speaker in the last Parliament, and Mr. Vien will succeed F. G. Sanderson, Mr. Casgrain a few days ago was appointed Secretary of State.

Relatives Know First

OTTAWA (CP)—Relatives of Canadians serving with the army, navy and air force will be notified of any casualties 24 hours before the news is released for publication, it was learned here.

The Department of National Defence, it is understood, will withhold such information from publication or use in radio news broadcasts until a full day after relatives have received notice.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1940

What of Next Monday?

MAY 20 IS THE DATE SUGGESTED ON which the world will learn Italy's intentions, whether she proposes to join Germany and force an issue in the Mediterranean—with the probable involvement of all or most of the Balkan states—or whether her better judgment will prevail and leave her in a state of nonbelligerency. Mussolini's controlled press, crowds of students in the streets of Rome, and prominent leaders of the Fascist party are indulging in daily manifestations of hostility toward the Allies. Nearly 10,000 unruly demonstrators were dispersed by the police today in the Piazza Venezzia—action interpreted by foreign observers as an official frown on such anti-British and anti-French outbursts as have continued since last Sunday. The significance of May 20, of course, lies in the fact that on that day Fascist officials not required for military duty are to be ready to take the places of those who would have to report for service in the event of war.

Meanwhile the three possibilities which it is evident Premier Mussolini is considering are: an Allied victory, a stalemate, or a German victory. It would seem to follow, therefore, if Il Duce should decide to throw in his lot with the Nazi hierarchy, and the Allies are victorious, the future would be dubious, if not disastrous, for him. If the conflict should end in a stalemate, Italy—economically weak at the outset from the after effects of her war in Ethiopia and Spain—will conceivably be exhausted with the other participants. But even if Germany should be victorious, and Italy escapes almost whole, Mussolini must depend completely for what he finally gets on Hitler's sense of gratitude. Exiled Fritz Thyssen and others who have fled the Reich know something about the Nazi chief's "payment" for services rendered. But perhaps the Italian dictator will still heed the teachings of a countryman of his, the 15th century political philosopher Machiavelli, who warned:

"A prince ought to take care never to make an alliance with one more powerful than himself for the purpose of attacking others . . . because if he conquers you are at his discretion."

In this conflict, with all its unpredictable possibilities and probabilities, Mussolini may ignore the Machiavellian exhortation, thus reversing his own conduct and the advice he gave to the Italian people before his country's entrance into the first Great War on the side of the Allies. It was on May 20, 1915, that the Italian Chamber of Deputies and Senate gave the government of Premier Salandra full powers, while four days afterward war against Austria was declared and diplomatic relations with Germany were broken off. The newspaper articles of Mussolini in those days did much to shape Italy's decision. Thus, in a short time, we shall know what significance attaches to a date and whether or not Il Duce will turn a deaf ear to the advice of a great philosopher.

Nanaimo Takes Pride

TO MARK THE OPENING OF THE CIVIC arena tonight, the Nanaimo Free Press publishes a special review edition of the progress and industrial growth of the city and district. As the articles and illustrations in the edition emphasize, although Nanaimo had its beginnings with the sinking of the first shafts into the coal seams 80 years ago, the city has in more recent years developed so that it is no longer exclusively a coal town. By no means, for it has developed also as an important centre for the fisheries, lumber and tourist industries. And it has become the wholesale point for a large part of this island. Above all, Nanaimo is able to boast of community-minded people, particularly those who work through the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Gyro Club. Their latest achievement, the financing and construction of the Civic Arena, contrasts with the lethargy of some larger and wealthier communities.

No Compliment to Canada

TWO OR THREE TIMES A WEEK FOR several months the morning paper has been trying to convince its readers that Canada's war effort is "lackadaisical," "half-hearted," "unenthusiastic," "in between" and anything else it and its doubtful eastern mentor, the Montreal Gazette, can think up to call it. Here is part of its latest rehash of its pre-election complaint against the Ottawa government:

"With what is happening in Holland and Belgium, as had been foreseen by all Europe since September 3 last, there is a summons to this Dominion of the Empire to play the part of a man in the struggle for freedom. Great Britain, progressively, between now and the end of the year is summoning 2,500,000 more men to arms, in addition to upwards of 2,000,000 now in the services. Her population is about four times as great as that of this Dominion. Canada has not more than 100,000 men on active service."

During the Dominion election campaign, it may be recalled, the Colonist said "if Canada's war effort were commensurate proportionately with that of Great Britain, this country would have made preparations to have 800,000 men under arms before the end of the present year." We pointed out at the time that this figure was worth more than perfunctory consideration. For example:

The latest estimate of Canada's population is 11,300,000—fairly evenly divided between male and female— and of this number, at the end of 1938, there were 3,210,000 persons between the ages of 18 and 34 years gainfully employed. Of these 1,638,000 were males and 1,579,000 were females. In other words, using the 1938 total of males between the ages of 18 and 34—the military age period—there are 1,638,000 gainfully employed. They work on the farms, in the mines, in the fishing grounds, in the woods, and in the factories. Will it be seriously suggested that half of this total of the cream of the nation's productive power ought to be taken from their tasks and put into uniforms before the the end of the present year?

All fair-minded citizens agree that Canada is doing her utmost short of disrupting her whole economic structure—which would be a body blow to the Allies—to facilitate her contribution to the Empire's great war effort. It is beside the point, of course, to suggest to the morning paper that it and one or two of its contemporaries who are finding it difficult to get over the result of the March election are alone in their carping criticism of what the Allied governments seem to consider a first-class job.

Why the Rush Now?

WE ARE NOT AGAINST BUSES. WE feel, with most of our citizens, that we can without hardship do with the present transportation facilities until the more important business before us is disposed of, that is, winning the war. With our economic resources and our energies about to be tested as never before, this is not the time to be changing over our local transportation system, with all the displacement of labor and capital involved. This war is a more serious business for all of us than some of our municipal officials seem to realize. If they did comprehend the seriousness of it all, we know they would feel the wise and patriotic action would be to postpone action in the transportation matter until after the war. The information the city has gathered at a cost of $7,000 or so, will keep and be just as useful then as now. The city council played with the transportation issue for so long before the war, that it is unseemly for some of its members to try to rush through a transportation deal now. Besides, when the war is over, free from its distractions, we shall be better able to give proposed contracts the consideration they should have in the public interest.

Dr. Manion Steps Down

HON. R. B. HANSON HAS BEEN chosen by the Conservative caucus to lead the party in Parliament during the session which will open tomorrow. Dr. Manion, defeated in Fort William at the general election on March 26, has resigned the position to which he was appointed in the summer of 1938. The question of a permanent leader no doubt will be left in abeyance until a national convention can be called.

It was unfortunate for Dr. Manion that he was defeated as well as his party. Nor is this the time to hold further post mortems. There were obviously some factors in the election over which the defeated leader had little or no control; there were others so self-evident to the Canadian people that they were in no mood to change horses in the middle of the stream. Dr. Manion chose his own battle cry and conducted the type of campaign he and his followers thought they could win.

We disagree with the Vancouver Province when it says the election was more or less a trick election. It was nothing of the kind. The issue was crystal clear; the Canadian people so recognized it and rendered an emphatic verdict. Our contemporary, however, is right on one point: "The country was not much interested in scandal," and "making such errors of judgment as altering the party name" did not help Dr. Manion.

Hitler having written a book called "My Struggle," Toronto Saturday Night reports the rumor that Mussolini, not to be outdone, is busy on a book of reminiscences to be called "My Straddle."

Raymond Massey brings the Pulitzer prize play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" to Victoria tomorrow and then to Vancouver for two nights. Robert E. Sherwood, author of the play, is donating this week's royalties to the Canadian Red Cross. It is an appreciated gesture.

'BELT-TIGHTENING'

From Winnipeg Free Press

To those who say that this is no time to talk about savings or "belt-tightening," the Ottawa Journal well says:

"The trouble with that sort of talk is that it invariably waits until danger has arrived before proceeding to do anything about it. It waits to apply a cure instead of going in for prevention, with the cure, as history has shown too abundantly, often desperately painful. Actually, human nature being what it is, and this war what it threatens to be, there is little danger that we shall do the obviously right thing too much or too quickly."

Besides the danger, the inevitability, of inflation if the right policy is not followed, there is another serious danger which will be appreciated by all who are anxious for a victory for the Allies and the overthrow of Hitlerism. There is only a certain amount of national income—the returns from all production—though this will be increased somewhat during the war. If there is not a policy of saving, well supported by the people, then there cannot be diverted to war purposes the required amount of the national income. Canada's war effort would be limited accordingly, she would be doing just that much less to help win the fight.

The issues of the war are perfectly clear. The economics of the war are also simple enough, but it is highly important that they should be grasped by the people if they are to give the co-operation required of them in a united national effort.

Elmore Philpott

UNHAPPY NEIGHBORS

IN THE LANGUAGE of the prize ring, the whole world is punch-drunk these days from the shocks being administered to fixed beliefs. We have had wars before—indeed the whole history of man is one long story of war of one kind or another. We have had set-backs before—so many set-backs that we would think there was something unreal about a war in which they did not occur. But the blitzkrieg conquest of nations as old in history as England, and their temporary disappearance from the ranks of the self-governing, in a dizzy succession, almost makes us gasp. When the process is attended by such circus stunts as the descent of swarms of killers from the very skies ordinary folk might be forgiven for wondering whether or not this were not just a horrible nightmare.

There is no country in the world which has been thrown into such a state of seething uncertainty as has been the United States. Less than a year ago there was no body of opinion in the United States which believed that the United States would be forced to enter the then coming and now arrived war. The only people who were doing anything in the way of trying to organize public opinion about the necessity of helping to stop Hitler, even by physical means, were the Communists and their dupes or stooges. That was, of course before the great somersault of last August.

Even when war broke out the isolationist sentiment deepened rather than weakened. For there was no fighting of any account on the Western Front. The late Senator Borah, only a few weeks before had put the skids under one of President Roosevelt's conferences by declaring that there was not going to be a war—that his sources of information on that point were better than the President's. Mr. Borah then said, rather than admit his former error, that "this is a phoney war."

Well informed people might have believed that up till the time of the Soviet invasion of Finland. But then the people of the United States, like the rest of us, learned that this war was going to be at least as brutal as any that had preceded it.

SHOCKS HAVE FOLLOWED this spring so quickly that old ideas have crashed like ancient skyscrappers in an earthquake.

What seems to be worrying the people of the United States is not having to fight a war against Japan, in the event that the latter try to take over the Dutch possessions in the Pacific. Most Americans seem to have a sort of fatalistic instinct that war with Japan is coming anyway, and the sooner they get it over with the better.

But now, as the radio flashes pour in, with all the hysterical emphasis that the American announcers like to give them, the great question clarifies itself in American minds.

It is this: What kind of a world will this be for us if Hitler does win this war, and dictates a peace as a conqueror from London?

I have been amused by listening to reports of speeches over the radio and in the U.S. press. It is obvious that public opinion is swinging with characteristic American swiftness. I see one retired general, with a flair for picturesque phrase, is now talking about what size of an expeditionary force they will have to send, if they send it. A couple of years ago he was hinting of leading a revolution if anybody tried to inveigle poor old Uncle Sam into war again.

For in spite of the fact that twisting the lion's tail is still a stable favorite American indoor sport—relatively harmless and perfectly natural in view of the history of the U.S.—the vast majority of the people of the United States are intelligent enough to know that a world from which the British Empire had disappeared as a first-class power would be a very uncomfortable place for them.

FLEETING LIFE

Mark how fleeting and paltry is the estate of man—yesterday an embryo, tomorrow a mummy or ashes. So for the hair's-breadth of time assigned to thee live rationally, and part with life cheerfully, as drops the ripe olive, extolling the season that bore it and the tree that matured it.—Marcus Aurelius.

GEMS OF THOUGHT—CORRECTING MISTAKES

"I shall try to correct errors when shown to be errors, and I shall adopt new views so fast as they shall appear to be true views."—Abraham Lincoln.

"One should watch to know what his errors are; and if this watching destroys his peace in error, should one watch against such a result? He should not."—Mary Baker Eddy.

"Be not discouraged at broken and spilled resolutions; but to it and to it again!"—Coleridge.

"A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday."—Pope.

Wartime Experiences In an Industrial City

From a letter by W. L. Andrews, editor of the Yorkshire Post and Leeds Mercury of Leeds, England.

HERE, in an industrial town of 500,000 people, where most of us are concerned in business of one sort or another, it is easier than in the west end or the City of London to realize what this kind of war means to the flesh and blood and will power of the ordinary man and woman.

It began with a great anxiety. Was death to fall upon us from the skies? We thought it would. Our fears were sharpened by newsreel pictures from Spain and China. We spent hours of the first night of war in our chilly cellars.

The fear soon passed, but not the misgiving that the challenge had found us ill-prepared. We had clung to the hope that Hitler did not want European war but meant only to use the threat of it. And so, month after month, in our efforts to fortify our homes and our nerves against air raids, we had struggled with a clogging unreality, feeling that presently the danger would fade and we should be glad not to have wasted too much energy upon it.

THEN through the winter the question revolved in our minds: "Now the fight is on, must we pay the penalty of poor foresight and unreadiness? Will the enemy, trained with desperate thoroughness for this war, strike at us with deadly force while his actual marshalled war strength is far beyond ours?"

Such thoughts, perhaps unduly timorous, bred fast in the stuffiness of the blackout. This was something the nation has never known before, something depressing and devitalizing.

IT WAS a poor life for our factory women, leaving home in the dark on winter mornings and going home in the dark on winter nights, and never seeing a ray of sunshine falling on their living-room table except at week-end. Many social contacts were severed. Life became a dreary strain. Colds multiplied and were hard to shake off.

Happily, except for one bad week-end after days of blizzard, our homes were as well warmed as usual. Next winter, if the war continues—as it looks like doing—we shall be able to make our blackout plans less hastily and arrange for better ventilation.

The rationing of food and other commodities has been trying, but not unduly so. If we could continue to get as much food as we are getting now we could face, everything else being tolerable, 10 years of war. In fact, the great mass of the British people even now must be living at a much higher standard than millions of people on the continent.

Perhaps a housewife exhausts her meat coupons for the week with one grand sirloin of beef for the Sunday dinner. This does not mean that her family then goes meatless for the rest of the week. She can buy without coupons pork, ham, bacon, sausages, fish and all kinds of fowl.

Many people have been better fed than before. Some have more money. The munition wages have begun to circulate freely. And whether you have more money or not, there is always the temptation when you see something good to eat to accept the hospitable advice to have it while you can, and never mind your figure.

ONE is sorriest for two classes. First, the elderly, whose investment income may have shrunk and who may never know their ample comforts again. Then for the young married couples, whose income is suddenly reduced from say six or seven pounds a week to military pay and allowances, which by comparison are pathetically small.

There is more evidence of hardship among the soldiers' dependants now than there was in what we call the first Great War. Why? Mainly because rents are much higher and many young couples have hire-purchase commitments, under a method of business which has spread remarkably in recent years.

WHEN we come to the question whether British morale can outlast German morale in withstanding the hardships of war, both sides may be expected to show astonishing powers of resistance. If this is to be an endurance war it may go on and on for years. I have seen the Germans on the field of battle, seen them withstanding privations at home, and have never imagined they would give in easily.

But neither shall we Britons. We are fighting for British freedom and for the general cause of freedom. "Stick it" was our motto in the Great War. It will be our motto again.

I hardly expect we shall be put to such a test as the Germans will be next winter. But we are clenching our will power to face anything. We know this will be no soft war, no easy thing for us.

FOR SUNDAY MOVIES

To the Editor:—I was glad to see Mr. Staverman's letter in your paper approving of Sunday movies for Victoria. He, and all but the bigoted Sabbatarians, will be glad to learn that the English Sunday is gradually becoming a more cheerful day for soldiers and other service men on leave. It is now possible for local authorities to obtain permission for the opening of movies on Sundays by passing a resolution in favor of this, since the law compelling the taking of a ballot of the electors on such a proposal has been suspended for the duration of the war. Here is a definite way in which our city council can contribute much to the well-being of our local armed forces.

No one need be worried about the extra work which a Sunday opening would place upon the staffs of the theatres. Adequate safeguards against exploitation are contained in the present Hours of Work Act which, of course, applies now to waitresses, etc., on Sundays.

Not only would our troops benefit, but our tourists would cease to "shun Victoria as the plague on Sundays," as Mr. Staverman so well puts it.

Why not Sunday movies in Victoria as in England?

M. A. HOLT.

MAN AND ELEPHANT

From Winnipeg Tribune

There is nothing that worries the human race quite as much as implications that, in certain respects, other animals have the jump on us.

Major Stanley S. Flower, British zoologist, has just contributed to the collective ego of the world by announcing that man can truthfully boast the longest span of life. The old myth about the elephant living longer has no basis in fact, the major says. As a matter of fact, the oldest elephants fall just short of living 50 years.

The world of man could be a little prouder of this distinction if it could only forget that elephants, at least, have a pretty good chance of finishing their normal life span without worrying about wars and traffic accidents.

GERMAN SONGS

To the Editor:—A few days ago when awaiting the BBC broadcast from London, I was startled and irritated by a noisy song in German from CBR at Vancouver. I say "noisy" because anything in German is to me only an unpleasant noise.

When I sent a protest to CBR, I received a courteous reply from a gentleman I happen to know pleasantly and whose name it is not necessary to mention. He said: "So far we have placed no restriction on the playing of German music over the facilities of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation." Obviously he evaded the point. Music, instrumental or symphonic, is not necessarily national, and, in any case, most of the good German music was composed by Jews, but a song in the German language is national in so far as it reminds us at once of "the wild beast that has now sprung from his lair." The trouble with the gentleman of the CBR at Vancouver is that they are not taking the war in a spirit sufficiently serious, and the sooner they show an appreciation of the damnable facts we are facing the better it will be for them and for their listeners on the radio.

THOUSAND MONKS

From Indian Press Union

In the presence of 35,000 Buddhist pilgrims, and with time-honored ritual, the ceremony of laying the base of the pinnacle on the restored Runwanweli Seya Dagoba (temple) at Anuradhapura, ancient capital of Ceylon, was performed.

When a button was pressed a bell rang at the top of the spire, and the first section of the giant pinnacle was fixed. Fifty crackers were exploded, while a thousand monks chanted prayers. The original Dagoba was built by King Dutugemunu in 158-137 B.C

DRUGS SMUGGLED IN CAMELS

From the League of Nation's Narcotic Bureau

It was learned that a party of smugglers from Palestine were getting narcotics through Sinai to the Nile Valley. The smugglers put the drugs in zinc cylinders, which were forced down the camels' throats. The camels were afterwards driven away until they reached the Nile Valley, where they were slaughtered, the cylinders containing the drugs removed and the flesh of the camels distributed among poor farming folk.

BRITISH GUNNERY SUPREME

From an Address by Lord Strabolgi

In the last war British seamanship was supreme, but for technical reasons our gunnery was inferior to that of the Germans. Now our sea and air weapons are technically superior; our seamanship remains superior, and, above all, our men have the right spirit.

Held Reunion for Golden Wedding

Congratulations and good wishes from a large circle of friends were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dawson, 117 St. Andrew's Street, yesterday on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The venerable couple were "at home" to their friends in the afternoon and evening, and many callers were received by Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, who were assisted in receiving by their two daughters, Mrs. L. G. McDonald, Kenora, Ont., and Mrs. A. B. Christopher of Vancouver.

Many beautiful flowers, gifts from friends far and near, were arranged in the reception rooms. Mrs. Dawson was gowned in a black lace dress over a wine-colored slip, and wore a corsage bouquet of Talisman rosebuds. All members of the family were present, also Mr. Dawson's two brothers, Messrs. Jim and Harry Dawson, Vancouver.

Tea was served from a table covered with a lace cloth centred with a bowl of golden-colored rosebuds and gold tapers. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson's daughters-in-law, Mrs. Harry Dawson and Mrs. Wilbur Dawson, acted as tea hostesses, and pouring tea during the afternoon were Mrs. J. T. McDonald and Mrs. H. H. Woolison, and helping with the serving were Mrs. Arthur Saunders, Mrs. E. J. Fatt, Miss Louise Ormond and Miss Jenny Kennedy.

In the evening, Mrs. J. Ormond, Mrs. E. J. Fatt and Mrs. John Newton presided at the table, and were assisted in serving by Mrs. R. J. Stewart, and the Misses Phyllis and Hilda Newton and Louise and Olivine Ormond.

Prior to the evening reception, a family dinner was held at the Empress Hotel.

Concert Tonight at Dry Canteen

Some of Victoria's most popular entertainers will present a variety program tonight at the Three Services Canteen, Broad Street, for the men of the army, navy and air force. The concert has been arranged by the Rotary Club, under the direction of Alfred Prescott.

That the men are thoroughly appreciating these weekly concerts is apparent from the numbers attending, and the canteen has found a very firm foothold in the lives of the servicemen, who have given it the title of "Sally Ann," their own version of "Salvation Army."

In addition to the regular weekly concerts, there has been a great demand for impromptu evening entertainments, and community singing is always popular. The committee in charge has experienced a little difficulty in finding volunteer pianists, who will spend an hour or so in the evening playing popular music and songs which the men enjoy so much.

Mrs. Carew Martin, who is convener of the entertainment committee, is anxious to have the names of anyone willing to offer their services for an hour in the evening, between 8 and 9, to play for the men, and volunteers are asked to get in touch with her by telephoning Empire 6676.

Many at Funeral

NANAIMO.—Fellow workers, members of the Women's Auxiliary of the United Mine Workers of America, and a long line of cars containing friends, yesterday attended the funeral of William Atkinson, killed in an automobile accident near here Saturday last. Burial was in the Nanaimo cemetery. The funeral was under the auspices of the United Mine Workers of America, District No. 18, of which Mr. Atkinson, at the time of death, was acting as island representative. Officials of the mine workers from Calgary and other points also attended the funeral. Rev. R. T. Reed conducted the services. All local coal mines were closed down in order that the miners could attend the service.

Mrs. Roosevelt Has Taste of Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt dined on a 5 cent relief meal last night and chatted with Mrs. Hughs Easley, 37, wife of an unemployed St. Louis electrician, about the problem of caring for a family of 10 on $68 a month.

Mrs. Roosevelt had a stew with a small piece of beef, a bit of carrot, onion and potato, half a slice of bread, a dab of oleomargerine, one canned prune and a cup of coffee with canned milk, but Mrs. Easley had a 10 cent dinner of pot roast, a larger serving of vegetables and tapioca.

The 5 cent meal was worked out by the Agriculture Department as typical of those which families on relief can afford. The 10 cent meal was described as a "square meal," one they wish they could afford.

Big Crowd Enjoys Concert Party

The Chamber of Commerce auditorium was filled for the enjoyable concert presented last night by the Arf-a-Mo concert party of the Army and Navy Veterans, and as a result the Esquimalt Unit of the Red Cross, under whose auspices the affair was held, raised a substantial sum for Red Cross work.

George R. Ford directed the program which included an opening chorus by the company; tap dances by Ray Hunt; songs by John McAllister banjo solos by Jack Filtness; a featured item, "Wings Over the Navy," by Joe Dobbie; violin solos, by Joe Leatham; Lancashire monologues, by George Pinnington; sand dances, by A. Harman; songs by Joe Dobbie; impersonations by "Jacklin and Ford"; female impersonations by Arthur Veals; instrumental duets by A. Stafford and C. Rutledge, and a closing chorus.

Selections were played by the orchestra, comprising Cecil Boulter, Alfred Stafford, Alfred Food, H. Sabiston, A. Michaux, Clifford Rutledge, C. R. D. Ferris, Joe Leatham and James Watson. The show was stage-managed by Aubrey Jones, with Kim Campbell as electrician, and William Holman and Wilfred Stafford as assistants. Cecil Boulter was the accompanist, and Master Jacklin acted as page.

Urges Women To Be Interested In Civic Affairs

Varsity Women's Club Hears Interesting Annual Reports

That women should show more interest in civic matters by attending meetings of the City Council and the Ratepayers' Association from time to time was one of the interesting suggestions made in the report of the citizenship committee of the University Women's Club, read by Miss Ellen Hart, the convener, at the annual meeting of the club held last night at the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. Hazel Hodson, the president, was in the chair.

AID REFUGEES

Mrs. Hodson, in her presidential report, spoke of the club loans and of the awarding of the Cecelia Green scholarship, the $100 bursary, and the $5 literary prize given annually. She noted that the club had opened a subscription list toward the International Federation fund for refugee work, and in this connection read a communication from the convener of the committee on International Relations, outlining the plans for university women refugees. A fund had been established for this at four centres—France, Switzerland, Lithuania and Sweden. At last reports it stood at more than £400, with more constantly being supplied through various local clubs.

Enclosed in this communication was one from the committee of the central executive of the International Federation, which met in Brussels in March. Owing to war conditions, only three members were present, but they made an eloquent appeal to various branches of the federation to carry on for the sake of those colleagues who were victims of the war, adding that "the essential thing for us university women is to maintain the spiritual values and conserve intact our heritage of free thought and conscience that may have escaped brutal destruction."

Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer, by Miss Patricia Hamilton Smith, convener of the education committee; Miss Ellen Hart, citizenship committee, and Miss Olive M. Fisher, the convener of the local committee for the triennial convention of the Canadian Federation of University Women, to be held this year at Calgary, August 26, 27 and 28.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Officers were re-elected as follows, by acclamaion: President, Mrs. Hazel Hodson; first vice-president, Miss Patricia Hamilton Smith; second vice-president, Miss Eugenie Cantwell; recording secretary, Mrs. O. C. Lucas; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edna Godson; treasurer, Miss Iola Worthington; executive committee, Mrs. H. L. Smith, Dr. Olga Jardine, Mrs. Allon Peebles and Miss Heritage.

An informal program followed the business session and included violin numbers by Miss Joy Berman, accompanied by Mrs. G. A. McCurdy; Mrs. Kenneth McAllister, who contributed some suggestions for the members' summer reading, and Miss Audrey Alexander Brown, who recited four of her recent poems: "The Sword of Spring," "All Fools' Day," "The Singer Grows Old" and "Britain in Time of Crisis."

Mrs. Gordon Downes will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Guild of Friendship to be held at 1242 Richardson Street on Thurday afternoon at 3. The subject of Mrs. Downes' talk will be "Denmark," from which country she has recently returned. Tea will be served and a silver collection taken.

Native Daughters Honor Mothers

About 50 mothers and daughters attended the enjoyable banquet arranged by the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, in honor of Mother's Day and held last night at Spencer's dining-room.

Miss Muriel Creech, chief factor, presided at the prettily-decorated table and proposed the toast to The King. Mrs. T. P. Waters proposed the toast to the mothers, to which Mrs. J. Chrow responded. The guests were introduced by the members, and Mrs. R. Cruickshank, the chaplain, said grace.

Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. D. Pugh, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. Bell, who also played for the community singing led by Mrs. H. A. Beckwith. Four of the youngest daughters present sang solos, including little Sheila Beckwith, Joyce Waters, Kathleen Cruickshank and Frances Nickerson.

The committee in charge of the arrangements included Miss Jean Lorimer, Miss Marjory Gillies and Mrs. G. Wight.

Dalhousie Honors Three Women

HALIFAX (CP) — Three women, distinguished in war work, public affairs and medicine, were admitted to the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at Dalhousie University's convocation yesterday. The convocation broke university precedent, only one woman having been so honored before in Dalhousie's 102 years of continuous teaching.

The purple hoods of the Honorary Doctor of Laws were draped about the shoulders of Mrs. Agnes Dennis, C.B.E., Halifax, and Dr. Jemima MacKenzie of Pictou, N.S. The degree was conferred upon Miss Caroline E. Carmichael of New Glasgow, N.S., in absentia. The only other woman to have been honored by Dalhousie was the late Dr. Eliza Ritchie.

St. Matthias' A.Y.P.A. held a successful dance Friday evening, a four-piece orchestra in attendance. Refreshments were served.

On Monday evening an A.Y.P.A. rally was held at St. Matthias. After a service in the church, at which Rev. Pierce installed the local council officers, the final debate of the season took place on the subject, "Resolved that the youth of today have more chances for personal advancement than the youth of 50 years ago."

Mr. Bill Barclay and Miss Peggy White upheld the affirmative for St. Paul's, and Miss Barbara Smith and Mr. Fred Leighton upheld the negative for St. Matthias. St. Matthias' team were successful and were presented with the 1940 debating league pennant. The badminton cup was presented to the South Saanich branch by Phil Salmon. A sing-song was led by Len Dixon and refreshments were served. There will be no meeting this week.

Canadian Evacuees Are Digging for Victory

By DOROTHY DEW

HARTWELL, Eng. (CP) — Everyone in our household of Canadian evacuees from London is "digging for victory" these days. The household consists of two families who moved into a Northamptonshire farmhouse last summer.

We've decided this war will eventually be won in the earth and by the earth so we've gone back to the land.

"Dig for victory" is a good slogan. It has caught on throughout the country and thousands who have never done so before are tilling the soil. One enthusiast in a letter to a newspaper told how readers without gardens could cultivate window boxes.

When we moved into our evacuation homestead we acquired what seemed to be a well-stocked kitchen garden. But we soon found it wasn't nearly enough for the large appetites of our tribe of lusty children and adults. This year we have taken over the garden of a nearby cottage where dwell our "Man Friday" and his wife.

Their garden space will grow potatoes and some of the roots for both households. Ours will produce more root crops, greens and salad stuff. The two gardens have apple, pear and plum trees and raspberry canes.

STARTED EARLY

We didn't wait for the government's "dig for victory" campaign. Last fall we planted cabbages, lettuce, turnips, beans and beets, and were assured we would reap early crops this year. If it had been an average British winter we would have. But instead of that Britain experienced the most severe weather in half a century. As a result our "harvest" will be exactly one head of lettuce.

However, now spring has come we have started again. The early potatoes are planted and some vegetable seeds in boxes under glass. When we moved here we decided to make the homestead as self-providing as possible. This was in case of a transportation breakdown or lack of fuel to operate the car in which we fetch supplies. We found we could grow almost anything we needed except meat. For that we have a good substitute in chickens. The chickens — some 200 of them—are Man Friday's special care.

FOX GOT TURKEY

For a while we thought of breeding turkeys. At Christmas time Man Friday acquired a turkey known as Charlotte. We had visions of her as the matriarch of a flock. But a fox went into action and one morning there was nothing left of Charlotte but the feathers. The turkey breeding scheme has been shelved.

It looks like a busy summer. We don't expect any professional help for the garden so we candidly invite London friends to "come up for the week-end" and dig. They come, and even return, showing they must get some satisfaction out of it.

We did have a moment of doubt the other night. We heard about a man who said he lived and thrived on grass, hay, rose petals and dandelion leaves. For a moment we wavered—then we thought how hungry we get in this country air and of the lovely mealy potatoes we grow.

We're still digging.

We'll store your precious little LAMB (or Seal or Fox) oh, so carefully!

No trundling your precious fur coat off for incarceration in some gloomy warehouse. We'll bring it to our own light, airy Summer Resort for Furs—specially designed and built for the purpose right on our own property.

First we take it into the daylight examining room. There our expert Furriers examine it carefully for rips, tears, soiled or worn places. These are all noted on your policy, which serves as insurance and receipt.

Then your little lamb is air cleaned. Every speck of dust and dirt is blown out. Then off it goes to our great specially constructed vault—through two great protecting doors. There a perpetually circulating current of air at precisely the most effective temperature keeps the furs well oiled. Here, on its own hanger, with room to spare between neighboring coats, your "little lamb" will spend a pampered and protected summer.

And if the "little lamb" needs a cleaning we'll be glad to discuss that with you.

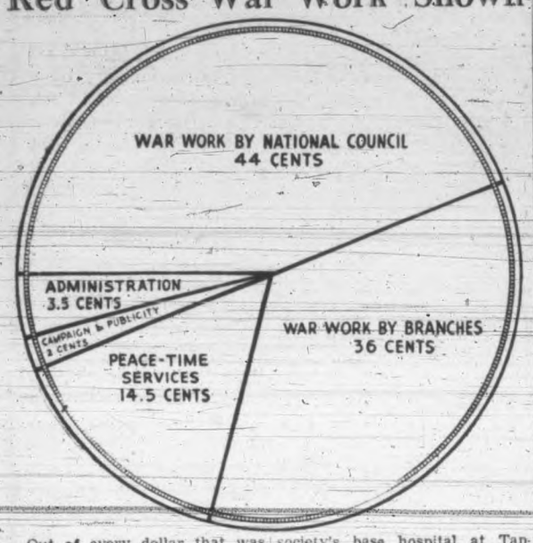
Red Cross War Work Shown



Out of every dollar that was subscribed to the Canadian Red Cross Society in its nation-wide campaign for funds last fall, 80 cents is being spent on war work, according to information received from national headquarters of the society at Toronto.

A total of $5,000,000 was pledged to the society. Victoria gave approximately $35,000 of this through a joint drive with the Community Chest.

Peacetime services of the society, which do not slacken during war, claim 14.5 cents of the dollar while administration expenses for Canada and overseas take 3.5 cents. The remaining 2 cents provides for campaign and publicity.

Of the 80 cents used for war purposes, 44 cents is spent by the National Council and 36 cents covers supplies and comforts furnished through the branches of the society.

In actual figures the National Council is responsible for the expenditure of $2,200,000; branches, $1,800,000; peacetime services, $725,000; campaign and publicity, $100,000; administration expenses, war and peacetime, $175,000.

Of the National Council allotment, $750,000 takes care of the erection and equipment of the society's base hospital at Taplow, Eng.; the establishment and operation for one year of the Maple Leaf Club in London, and the underwriting of the Beaver Club in London.

A grant of $100,000 has been authorized for the British Red Cross Society and a similar amount has been set aside for the furnishing of comforts and relief to the men of the Royal Navy, auxiliary services and the merchant marine. A sum of $50,000 was also made available for the provision of similar comforts to naval units and mercantile marine at Halifax.

Relief grants to the Allies amounted to $100,000. Ten fully-equipped ambulances were provided for the Finns at a cost of $16,000 and an ambulance unit costing $15,000 was provided for the Polish Legion now attached to the French army.

Designated as co-operative services, St. John Ambulance Association was allotted $25,000; Canadian Legion war services, $40,000; Halifax Hostel, $25,000.

About $1,000,000 will be available for further projects until another campaign is required. This money, it is explained, will come from the balance of the campaign funds in the hands of the divisions.

APPROVE CHANGES IN STREET NAMES

The report of the intermunicipal committee of Greater Victoria on street name changes was adopted by the Saanich Council last night after hearing communications and petitions for and against the changes as proposed by the committee.

An addition to the report was the change of the name of Esther's Road to Hagan Road, honoring the family name of Councillor L. C. Hagan, Ward Six, veteran member of the council. Councillor Hagan voted against the change.

A petition from the Saanich Pioneer Society, endorsed by the Board of Trade and supported by Councillor Hagan, sought changes in the names of Keating Cross Road, Hovey and Prosser Roads, to Butler, Mandart and Burnbank Roads, respectively. Councillor Hagan pointed out the latter were the names of pioneer families of the district, while Keating, for instance, had just been a speculator. These suggestions were referred to the engineer for consideration before the intermunicipal committee and report back.

The council agreed to introduce a by-law restricting speed limits in the Cadboro and Cordova Bay areas to 20 miles an hour. The action was petitioned by the Cordova Bay Ratepayers' Association.

In reply to requests from residents of the district, the Vancouver Island Coach Lines informed the council an improved service would serve Cordova Bay, commencing today. Buses will leave the city daily at 10 a.m. and 5.15 p.m., returning from Cordova Bay at 10.30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays there will be extra buses, leaving the depot at 1.30 p.m. and Cordova Bay at 2 p.m.

SHOW TREATMENT

Poison gas, as used in modern warfare and the treatment for it, was among the things demonstrated at Rest Haven Hospital Monday when a large gathering of local residents and visitors from Cordova Bay and Victoria were conducted through different departments of the institution. The uses of various articles of medical equipment were explained. Later in the afternoon the crowd, seated on the east lawn, enjoyed a specially prepared program in which doctors, nurses and members of a Victoria home nursing class took part.

Modern hospital surgery was illustrated by an actual demonstration in a mock appendectomy operation in which six of the members of the staff took part. Another demonstration showed the value of hydrotherapy in the home treatment of a cold. All necessary equipment was used in both procedures.

Prevention of diseae was dealt with in short lectures on the benefits of physiothterapy diet, and care of infants. Poison gas, as used in modern warfare and treatment of one subjected to contact with same, was an interesting topic presented by one of the doctors present.

Lightning Kills 3

MAYNOOTH, Ont. (CP) — Lightning struck through the bedroom of a log house early today, killing Mrs. Guy La Fee and her two children, and knocking her husband unconscious.

The 21-year-old woman and her husband, about 23, an odd-jobs man in the district, were in one bed, while the children—a daughter, two, and a 10-month-old baby—were in another.

Coroner O. W. Anderson of Bancroft, who decided no inquest was necessary, gave first aid treatment to La Fee, whose condition is regarded as critical.

They Really Got Breakfast in Bed

"As soon as reveille is gone
We feel just as heavy as lead,
But we never get up till the sergeant
Bring our breakfast up to bed."

It really happened. The burlesque song of army life perpetuated since the last war has proved a realization in this war. The information is contained in a letter from Gunner Archie Warren of Aldershot.

The Canadian division troops stayed out all night on tactical maneuvres and received permission to stay in bed the following day, which was Good Friday.

"About 9 o'clock Friday morning," writes Gunner Warren, "Sergt. Peters and Bombardier Cattrall came in, woke us up and presented us with hot tea and hot-cross buns. I'll bet that you never heard of the army getting their breakfast in bed before."

MEN WANTED

Recruiting is going very slowly at the regimental depot in Victoria, it was learned today.

Recruiting officers said today they have openings for practically all classes.

In the infantry the two battalions of the Canadian Scottish can take men, and the Seaforth Highlanders and the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry want men for reinforcement purposes.

There are also several openings for the garrison artillery.

In addition, the recruiting centre is particularly anxious for men trained in special work. These include typists, clerks and accountants, cooks and tradesmen. Age limits were recently lifted to 46 for clerks, typists and similar occupations which will not go into active fighting.

STRANGE BUDDIES

The war makes peculiar buddies of youths from the four corners of the Dominion.

Many old friends have been reunited after joining the services, but most remarkable of all are the new "matches" that have been made. Especially is this true of the Royal Canadian Air Force, where "local units" are practically unknown and youngsters from all parts of the country are brought together.

One of the strangest pairings has occurred in Halifax where 5 ft. 4 in. of sparkling French-Canadian has been billeted in the same room with 6 ft. 1 in. of lanky Albertan. They are aircraftsmen in an R.C.A.F. squadron quartered in private homes here.

Aircraftsman Ramond Renouf entered the force with the same spirit that made him build a 70-mile-an-hour snowmobile to skim over the hills around Rimouski, Que. — Aircraftsman C. K. Williams with the spirit that kept him aboard more than one cranky mustang on his father's ranch at Pincher Creek, Alta.

Young Renouf couldn't speak a word of English when he left his home and machine-shop job in Trois Pistoles, Que., to join the R.C.A.F. at Quebec City. And Williams knew no French when he enlisted at Sudbury, Ont. He had left Pincher Creek several months before, coming east to work in the mines at Sudbury.

Today, five months after he enlisted, Aircraftsman Renouf reads and talks English without trouble. Admittedly, he's made more progress than his raw-boned pal has with French. But it's coming.

Elect School Trustee

COBBLE HILL — Andrew T. Motherwell was elected a trustee to fill the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of Fred Oman, at a recent meeting of the school district ratepayers.

The board was asked by resolution to raise the tuition fee from $37.50 to $50 to help pay for extra accommodation needed next school year, and to go into the question of consolidation and report findings at the annual meeting.

E. Brunt, principal of the Cobble Hill High School, spoke on the question of consolidation.

G. Gamble, inspector of schools, said he did not see why a consolidated school could not be established in the district similar to that of Salt Spring Island. He offered to take the trustees over to see the Salt Spring school.

B.C. CITIZEN'S GAS AND BLOATING SPELLS VANISH! ENDORSES MOSBY'S TONIC

"This New Medicine Is Splendid!" Says Mr. Foster—Suffered Sharp Pains Due to Indigestion and Gas — Could Hardly Eat and Felt Weak and Worn Out—Now Relates How Mosby's Tonic Gave Him Real Relief

MR. J. FOSTER of Albert Head, B.C., Who Changed From a Suffering Person to a Happy Man When He Took MOSBY'S TONIC. "It Is a Splendid Medicine!" He Says.

Painful gas and bloat—indigestion after meals—sleeplessness—burning sensation around heart—weak, worn-out feeling—difficult breathing — choked feeling in chest due to gas—these are some of the penalties of an Upset Stomach. Many Victoria people have suffered in that way for YEARS. But now, Mosby's Tonic is relieving them by the thousands. This is a "New, Scientific Medicine," now being introduced to crowds daily here in Victoria by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, at the Cunningham Drug Store (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.), Fort and Douglas Sts. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. J. Foster of Albert Head, B.C., made the following statement. (This Well-known Man's Testimonial, praising Mosby's Tonic, follows:

Gas Bloating After Almost Every Meal

"I had about the most stubborn case of stomach distress that I ever heard of," said Mr. Foster. "I had spells of indigestion after my meals that made me so weak I felt like I couldn't stand on my feet. Had sharp gas pains that were almost more than I could stand. This distressful gas bloating followed nearly every meal I ate, so my food didn't do me any good and I became weak and worn out. Couldn't sleep right and was also a regular victim of constipation, in fact, had to take laxatives all the time.

Now Describes Change Mosby's Tonic Made

"I tried medicine, diets and other treatments, but nothing helped me. I wondered if I was ever going to find anything to give me relief. I saw Mosby's Tonic advertised and read several of the testimonials, so I got it and started taking it. The very first bottle helped me, and now I have taken only two bottles and those spells of indigestion have simply vanished! I can enjoy my meals without gas bloating and I don't have those sharp gas pains any more. My bowels are more regular and I sleep fine and have loads of new energy. I have changed from a suffering person into a Happy Man since I took Mosby's Tonic, and I want to publicly endorse this Splendid Medicine to all who suffer as I did."

Acts on Bowels, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys

MOSBY'S TONIC contains 20 Ingredients, including 15 Roots and Herbs. It acts on the bowels, stomach, liver, kidneys. Makes weak, worn-out people feel different all over. The price of this New, Scientific Compound is reasonable, due to the immense volume in which it sells. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.), Fort and Douglas Sts., Victoria, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

The carbon-forming, sludge-forming elements of the crude are taken out when Mobiloil is made—when it's distilled, refined, dewaxed and filtered by one scientific process after another. So heat doesn't break Mobiloil down. It lasts longer—up to 25% longer, motorists say. It keeps your engine running sweet, smooth and clean—free from sludge and carbon. That means low-cost operation—more power from the gas you use.

TELLS KIWANIANS WAY TO SUCCESS

"If a person could but put his knowledge of psychology to good use, nothing but good would result and that person would be assured of success and happiness," said E. D. S. Durrant in a lecture on "Psychology and How to Apply It," given before members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club at a luncheon meeting held in the Empress Hotel today.

"In order to obtain what you want you must first have the desire for it. Do you know when the psychological moment comes for you? Many persons have paid thousands of dollars for this piece of information. I warn you that it is a powerful force, and must be used with great care. The seeds of thought planted in the subconscious mind is one of the most powerful influences known to man," said the speaker.

"In an electrical plant, the best electrician is the man who realizes that he controls powerful forces, and handles those forces accordingly. Many people have a great deal of driving power, but have little or no control over it, and unless they adhere to certain laws, they shall not attain success."

"If a person spends time thinking of disease, how can be expect to remain healthy? You find what you are looking for. Wealth or poverty is not luck. It is the law of attraction coming into effect."

"Only the fertile soil of the subconscious mind bears fruit grown from thought seeds planted by suggestion."

Mr. Durrant was introduced by T. Scott and was thanked on behalf of the members by the president, Darrell W. Spence, who was chairman of the meeting.

William I. Fletcher was featured on the program when he sang two solos: "Viennese Refrain" and "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair." Both selections were well received by the audience. Dudley Wickett acted as accompanist.

Proof That Earth Is Round

Four observable proofs that the earth is round are: During an eclipse of the moon, the earth's shadow on the moon is round; men have traveled around the earth; the sinking from view of ships as they sail away to sea, and, as we travel southward, stars in the north sink toward the horizon, and new ones come into view in the southern skies.

WASHINGTON—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, who has been acting as publicity agent in the United States for Germany, has been recalled to Berlin, according to widely-circulated reports here today. Dr. Dernburg has been living in New York.

NEW YORK—George Sylvester Viereck, editor of the Fatherland, last night denounced the President's note to Germany as "the most brutal blunder of our shirtsleeve diplomacy." "If war results," he asserted, "it will be the fault of the United States and not of Germany."

Today's casualty list includes Arthur F. Hudson, 50th Gordon Highlanders, missing; Pte. W. R. Mason, 88th Fusiliers; Pte. B. Lavender, 48th Battalion; Pte. T. Walker, 50th Gordon Highlanders; Sergt.-Major A. C. Sutton, 50th Gordon Highlanders, wounded; Sydney J. Beckton, P.P.C.L.I., wounded.

There will be a particularly careful patrol of the business sections of the city tonight so as to prevent any repetition of the rioting that marked last Saturday night.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—A special meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Red Cross unit was held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Fraser.

At a previous meeting it was decided to close the local workrooms for the summer months in collaboration with Red Cross headquarters at Victoria. There have been many requests that this work be again opened up so that work may be continued.

A public meeting has been called for tomorrow afternoon in the S.L.A.A. Hall to discuss the matter of reopening the workroom and the appointment of a new convener.

Lansbury Ashes in Sea

LONDON (CP) — Even in death Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, veteran Labor leader whose funeral took place yesterday, remained a true internationalist.

Although he loved England better than any other place in the world, he wrote in his will that he believed love was greater than patriotism.

He directed his executors to mingle his ashes with those of his wife, which he had preserved since her death, take them to the sea off Land's End and scatter them there symbolically not to England alone, but to the whole world.

This last gesture of the Labor leader, known to British workers as "Uncle George," was disclosed when his will was read after the funeral in Lansbury's little house on Bow Road in East London.

SALT SPRING

GANGES—Under the auspices of the Ganges High School Students' Council, A. Sullivan, inspector of high schools, spoke on his visit to Australia, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands. Mr. Sullivan was introduced by E. Parsons, president of the board of school trustees. Proceeds will go to the high school library fund.

At the meeting of the Salt Spring Island W.A. it was decided to hold the annual garden fete and sale of work July 4.

The annual Hospital Day shower at the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital was a great success.

A copper pipe, removed from the 5,500-year-old pyramid of the Egyptian Pharaoh Cheops some years ago, held water even after so many centuries.

Fragments to Individuals

The sea-anemone is an animal that resembles a plant. As it moves, parts of its broad "foot" adhere to the surface of rocks and are torn off, and the fragments grow into complete new anemones.

She saw a dress— 100 miles away!

A girl was reading her home-town newspaper, when she saw a dress advertised by a store back home, 100 miles away. A few days later she was wearing the same dress to a dance!

Magic? No—she had simply discovered how to SHOP BY NEWSPAPER!

Newspaper advertising can act as a magic carpet for you, too. It can save you miles of steps, by displaying the stores' merchandise RIGHT IN YOUR OWN HOME. Telling you the important things you would ask about in the store itself—sizes, range of colors, fabric, washability, details of fashion.

The girl bought her dress with utter confidence, because the store's advertisement had told her just what she needed to know—and she knew its printed statement could be trusted. YOU can buy with equal confidence, because the advertisement is your guarantee that what you buy will be exactly as you saw it in the paper.

Page through this newspaper and notice the wide selection of merchandise—the unexpected chances for saving. You will discover for yourself the new leisure and economy of shopping "the newspaper way!"

THE BAD EARTH—When floods pour over the "Good Earth," swamped, it turns famine on the millions of peasants dependent on it. Then, driven by hunger, they go to the refuse heaps, build their crude dwellings there, pick over the dumps for salable scraps and edible bits. And their undernourished children, like these pictured in Tientsin after recent famine and floods, help sift the dumps.

Dodgers Fight

Defeat Reds In Marathon

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

IN VIEW of the likelihood of a shortage of first-class footballers next season, because most of the present players will be in the services, many British clubs are putting forward schemes in an effort to attract youngsters who will not be of military age for a season or so.

Leicester City was the first to put forward a really concrete scheme. They offered boys between 15 and 18 years of age a football career, besides undertaking to find them employment or teach them trades during their coaching as footballers. The offer met with great response, and youths with football ambitions have crowded the club's offices.

Each was interviewed by manager Tom Bromilow, who is personally to superintend the coaching scheme throughout the summer. The club, it is learned, has already signed 15 boys below 18 years of age.

Another Midland club now concentrating on youngsters is Birmingham. They are giving every chance to young players. Birmingham now has six players under 20 in their league side and they have been showing that they can hold their own against more-experienced sides. They appear to have fouund a goal-scoring outside-left in 17-year-old A. E. Godden, who scored twice in his first match. Birmingham's new policy is that they will endeavor not to borrow any more players.

Charlton Athletic and Clapton Orient are searching for talent, and James Seed, Charlton's manager, believes he has found a fine young footballer in E. Furmadge, an 18-year-old outside-left from Plumstead, whom he has been watching in trial matches. Seed has begun a thorough combing of the Charlton district for young talent instead of traveling with the league team for their away regional games. He has been staging junior trial games on his own ground, and stays behind to form his own opinion on their ability.

Clapton Orient is taking steps to build a team of young amateurs with a view to discovering talent good enough to include in their premier side. From the local matches in the neighborhood of the Orient ground many clever footballers have been recruited in the past, and special attention will be paid to these fields in the search.

Half a dozen youngsters have already been signed, and it is intended to increase the list to 20 or more. Players between the ages of 16 and 18 are sought, and trial matches are to be played. All the other London clubs intend to follow the example of these clubs, and plans are being formed to run a junior league by the 11 metropolitan clubs next season. In this way they hope to find a ready source of supply for any vacancies which occur in the first teams.

Wolverhampton Wanderers has always been interested in youngsters, and for a number of seasons their first team has been made up of players just out of their 'teens. The Wolves are not hard up for players, but they are beginning a search for more young footballers. Very shortly they expect to lose Galley, McIntosh, Gardiner and Sidlow, all under the Conscription Act, and they are looking around for players to take their places. Wolves are inviting all footballers, with an age limit of 18, to apply at the Molineux grounds for a trial. As soon as sufficient applications have been received, practice matches will be arranged.

MIXED FOURSOMES

On May 24, an 18-hole mixed foursomes with half combined handicaps allowed will be played at the Victoria Golf Club. Competitors will choose their partners and arrange for their opponents and starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

Brooklyn Dodgers can't be accused of dodging the issue.

They went to grips with Cincinnati Reds yesterday and came up with a 6 to 5 13-inning victory that put them back into first place in the National League. That's about all even the flatbush fans could ask. Three days in second place isn't a heavy sentence.

In yesterday's game the Reds started Bucky Walters, the sinkerball specialist who had won five and not been defeated. The Dodgers went right to work on him for two runs. After Cincinnati tied up the score, Brooklyn bounced back with two more runs in the seventh.

When Cincinnati tied the score again in the ninth and took the lead in the 10th on Mike McCormick's homer, the Dodgers kept battling. They scored a run on two singles sandwiched around an infield out. And finally in the 13th they pushed across the winning run—Gene Moore getting a walk, Leo Durocher a single and pinch-hitter Gus Mancuso a fly.

HITS TWO HOMERS

It took another extra inning struggle for Boston Red Sox to edge out the Chicago White Sox 7 to 6 and Jimmy Foxx was the hero for the American League leaders. His second home run of the game and eighth of the season came in the 10th and decided the outcome.

Cleveland Indians saw the margin between first and second place widened as they lost a 9 to 7 hitting fray to the Philadelphia Athletics when Al Simmons delivered a pinch single with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Gerald Walker took charge of Washington's test against Detroit Tigers and brought the Senators a 4 to 2 victory with a two-run homer in the sixth. The victory, credited to Dutch Leonard, lifted Washington from seventh to fifth in the American League.

Pittsburgh Pirates pounced on New York Giants 7 to 2 to end the Terrymen's six-game winning streak and even an old score against Cliff Melton. Philadelphia Phillies moved over the St. Louis Cardinals into fifth place in the National League with a 4 to 0 shutout.

COAST LEAGUE

A fist fight which temporarily halted the Sacramento-San Diego Pacific Coast League baseball game ended in a tie with no runs, few hits and no errors great enough to banish any of the player-participants.

Sacramento's scrappy outfit continued the battle in a baseball way and punched out a 10 to 8 victory over the San Diego Padres.

The free-for-all came in the fourth inning after Gene Handley Sacramento shortstop, and Ed Stewart, San Diego right fielder, swung at each other. Players from both teams and a few fans joined in before umpires, assisted by police, settled the disturbance to the satisfaction of all.

Los Angeles tripped Oakland 6 to 4, thanks to Mil Candini, Oakland moundsman, who issued four walks before he was jerked in the second inning. San Francisco took possession of fourth place with an 8 to 6 win over Hollywood.

Portland and Seattle open a series of seven games with a doubleheader at Seattle tonight.

Adanacs Defeat Indians 18 to 14

VANCOUVER (CP) — North Shore Indians, the club that reached the Canadian box lacrosse finals in 1936 got away to a poor start in this year's edition of the Intercity League.

Last night the Redmen from North Vancouver were defeated 18 to 14 by the Canadian champion New Westminster Adanacs.

It was Adanacs' second showing this year and the win sent them into a first-place tie with Vancouver Burrards—each with two victories.

Coach Andy Paull of the Indians was not discouraged with his team's showing and said it was only their first game. He predicted that after a little practice they will be right up in the win column.

Last year the luckless Redmen failed to win a game until their 17th match. Andy brought out five players from eastern Canada this year to add to three left-overs and a number of youngsters.

GOALIE PENALIZED

Ed. Johnson, Adanac net minder, became the season's first goalie to be penalized. He held a player in front of the net and was ordered to serve two minutes in the cooler. While he served time Paul Thomson sank a penalty shot for the Redmen.

Adanacs moved into a 4 to 2 lead in the first quarter, and held an 8 to 6 half-time advantage. The score was 12 to 8 for the Adanacs at the three-quarter mark.

Ted Bradbury topped Adanac marksmen with four goals, while Hubie Smith led the Indians with three.

CINCINNATI TO PROTEST GAME

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP) — Manager Bill McKechnie of Cincinnati Reds announced last night he had protested yesterday's National League game with the Dodgers which Brooklyn won 6 to 5 in 13 innings.

The protest revolved around a play in the seventh inning when Umpire Bill Klem apparently was struck by a batted ball. Leo Durocher had opened the inning with a single and advanced to second on a sacrifice. Then Charles Gilbert hit a grounder that seemed to bounce off Klem's leg. Second Baseman Lonnie Frey fielded the ball, but Gilbert beat the throw to first and Durocher moved to third. Both runners ultimately scored.

McKechnie contended Durocher should have been held to second base under the rule that a base-runner cannot advance when a batted ball strikes an umpire unless to make room for the batter at first base.

McKechnie said Klem denied he was struck by the ball.

Tonight at the Elks' Club, starting at 9, a dance will be held with the proceeds to be turned over to Mills.

Softball Race

Longshoremen on Top

Manager Jim Lackie's Victoria Longshoremen hammered their way into leadership of the senior softball loop last night when they administered a 10 to 2 beating to Camerons at Athletic Park. The stevedores had plenty of heavy-slugging power and Chuck Leason, prairie boy, did a good job of handcuffing the millhands and holding them to a low score with his fast-ball offerings from the hillock.

It was a good game for five innings, the frame ending with the waterfront workers on the top side of a 2 to 1 score. In the opening of the next frame, however, the stevedores started their victory march with a five-run barrage, which at the same time blasted Rosy McLellan, Cameron's ace twirler from the mound. The Longshoremen collected four safeties from McLellan, their pitcher last year, in this inning, and nine all told.

Ono, young Japanese heaver, went to the mound to take over McLellan's place and he bumped into trouble in the eighth when Burgess Berry, receiver for Longshoremen, crashed a home run with two men on the plate to account for the three remaining runs.

Making his first start for the Longshoremen, Leason did a splendid job, limiting Camerons to three bingles, including a homer by Hobby in the second inning. A little wild at times, Leason got himself into some tough spots, but heaved himself out of them again. He fanned 12 batters and in the fourth breezed "Hap" Milliken, with the sacks loaded, to stop a dangerous rally.

Lloyd Knapp of the Longshoremen led the batting parade. He hit safety three times in four trips to the plate.

Score by innings:

	R	H	E
Longshoremen	10	12	5
Camerons	2	3	2

Batteries—McLellan, Ono (5) and H Milliken; Leason and Berry.

In other games played last night Chinese Recreation trounced the 13th Field Ambulance 24 to 1, and Dusties Aces beat Esquimalt Athletic Association 4 to 3, after establishing a 4 to 0 lead in the first frame.

Harry Cooper Dark Horse Now

CHICAGO (AP)—Light horse Harry Cooper is dark horse Harry now—and likes it.

Once acclaimed by the professionals themselves as the finest money player in golf, Cooper has been out of the big-time fairways picture for some time. Once the favorite in almost every tournament in which he competed, Cooper now finds himself among the longshot brigade. Instead of being discouraged he believes it may lead him to one of the big championships he's never won, the national open and the P.G.A.

"For years it seemed that whenever the boys started picking me as the winner of the P.G.A. or national open, something would go wrong," he said yesterday. "Now that I'm just another of the boys, maybe I'll get going. I'm hitting the ball well and feeling better than I have for two years."

Big Entry for U.S. Open Golf

NEW YORK (AP) — Entries closed last night for the 1940 United States open golf championship, to be played at the Canterbury Golf Club, Warrensville, O., June 6 to 8, and indications were that the total number would be the sixth largest in the history of the tournament.

Joe Dey, executive secretary of the United States Golf Association, said approximately 1,160 entries had been received. The exact number will not be determined until the list is thoroughly rechecked and officials decide whether all entries are acceptable. This total would be sixth on the list of big entries. The record of 1,402 was set in 1937. Last year there were 1,193 entries.

Except for the players who finished among the low 30 and ties in last year's open, the entrants will be required to qualify for the big tournament in the sectional qualifying rounds in 26 locations on Monday, May 27. The exempt list includes nearly all the prominent professionals, with a few notable exceptions such as the veterans Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen, and the long-driving Jimmy Thomson. Sarazen and Thomson plan to play their qualifying rounds at New York, and Hagen at Cleveland.

The allocation of entries and qualifying places to each section will not be announced for about 10 days, Dey said, as that much time is needed to recheck the list and to draw up the pairings for the sectional rounds.

Vancouver Leafs Home From East

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mayor Lyle Telford last night led a group of about 100 persons to the civic airport where they greeted Vancouver Maple Leafs, the newly-crowned Canadian senior basketball champions on their return from Montreal.

All the players, with the exception of Ralph Henderson, came home by plane and will be honored at a civic banquet in Stanley Park Pavilion Friday. Henderson is coming by train.

Cubs and Eagles In Baseball Wins

Second division baseball games last evening saw Eagles, last year's title winners, and Tillicum Cubs pull through with victories.

At Beacon Hill, Eagles shut out Cedar Hill Athletics, 10 to 0. Eagles scored eight of their runs in the first two innings. From then on it was smooth sailing. Lansdell worked on the mound for the winners. Miles hit a home run in the second inning.

At Esquimalt, the Cubs beat Navy, 9 to 4. Bob Acres was the winning pitcher. Cubs hit two homers, with Tommy Main and Donaghy delivering.

Duncan Tennis Club

DUNCAN — Col. Dopping-Hepenstal was re-elected president of the Duncan Lawn Tennis Club at the annual meeting held at the clubhouse last Saturday. Honorary presidents are C. F. Davie, F. L. Kingston and W. M. Maclachlan; honorary vice-presidents, F. G. Aldersey, H. F. Prevost and H. R. Punnett; vice-president, H. B. Vogel; secretary-treasurer, N. R. Staples; committee, Miss K. Harris, Miss W. Dawson-Thomas, Mrs. S. Cowan, F. R. Gooding and Stewart Ross. An American round-about tournament is planned for May 24.

Twenty tables of bridge were played at the Maple Bay Yacht Club Saturday night, followed by a dance. Mesdames R. S. Ross, Hunt Hogan and E. A. Price, and Messrs. F. Hassell, J. Drew and R. S. Ross were prizewinners.

In the second match of the series for the "Dickie" Cup played on the links at Duncan on Sunday, Nanaimo won with a total of 38½ points to 21½.

INTERCLUB TENNIS

Members of the Langford Tennis Club were guests of the Cadboro Bay Tennis Club on the latter's courts over the week-end. Good matches were enjoyed, with the visitors winning, 11 to 5.

ORGANIZE TEAM

Anyone interested in joining a senior B baseball team under formation in Oak Bay, is invited to turn out at Oak Bay Park at 6 tomorrow evening.

BIG SCORER — Individual star in Alerts' smashing box lacrosse victory last night over the Bays was little Jimmy Pickford, above. He rammed home six goals and played an all-around smart exhibition.

Three Teams in Dominion Cup

Three Victoria teams, Victoria United, Victoria West and Victoria City have entered the Dominion Challenge Cup competition. This was revealed today when the complete entry of teams for the series was announced.

In addition to the local entries are Cumberland, Nanaimo, North Shore, Kerrisdale, Vancouver Police, Radials, Richmond, St. Andrews, St. Saviours, South Vancouver, West Vancouver and Western Monarchs, making a total of 15.

Draw for the series has not been made yet.

Just what teams Victoria City and Victoria West will field for the series is not known. Each club in the competition is permitted five transfers, allowing them to strengthen their squad if possible.

There has been some talk around town about certain players moving over to other teams, but word today was that no transfers have gone through to date.

New Pitcher for Eagles Tonight

Making his first Victoria appearance, Russ Richardson, former Vancouver baseball hurler, will go to the mound for Eagles in tonight's game against Tillicum Athletics at Athletic Park. The game will start at 6.

Manager Bill Bridgewood is confident his Eagles will pull through with their third straight triumph of the season with Richardson handling the chucking chores. The boy is reported to have good control and a wicked fast ball.

Eddie Keplin of Tillicums will start Louis Leonard, southpaw twirler, against the Eagles.

Athletics threw away their first game with Eagles last Saturday evening. Leading 7 to 3 at the start of the final inning, Athletics were unable to hold the Eagles who knocked out six runs to carry off the honors.

Friday evening Navy will play Athletics and Saturday Eagles will play Pitzer and Nex. Both games will start at 6.

Pickford Is Big Noise In Victory

More than 1,000 wildly-cheering fans saw Manager Ted Menzies' James Bay stickmen stage one of the finest second-half comebacks ever witnessed in local box lacrosse's short history last night at the Willows Sport Centre and then saw them do a sudden complete about-face to finish on the short end of the count in their senior skirmish with Rich Williams' smart Alert Service gladiators.

There was just one thing the Bays lacked in their great uphill fight. That was a driving finish. With just five minutes to go and the teams racing neck and neck on the home stretch, striving to get under the wire and victory, the orange-shirted boys from across the Bay faded out like a light, and the Alerts cantered on to win by a big five lengths—or in boxla language by a quintette of goals. The finals score read 21 to 16 in favor of Williams' redshirts.

The crowd that poured into the Willows building and established themselves around the boxed-in arena was the largest to attend a boxla struggle since St. Kits from back east played here last year. And in the last half hour of play they were handed enough excitement to disturb their nervous system for a few days.

This was a victory that rocketed Alerts into the leadership spot in the senior circuit, and they will be out to lengthen their lead Friday night when they collide with the Jokers' cellar crews.

When the fans retired to outdoors after first-half play for a smoke, the popular consensus of opinion in mumbled conversation was that Alerts were headed for a walkaway. And when one considered the score, 11 to 5, and the superiority of play of the transfer men, this did not seem unlikely.

BAYS OPEN HEAVY FIRE

But the lads wearing the Bay colors soon had many minds changed when third-quarter play was still in its youthful stages. Seemingly having acquired a new lease on life, the Bays came roaring in like the March lion after the face-off and bringing their steamroller into action for the first time rolled on and on until they had poured in five goals without a return to even the count, Ralph "Red" Baker blasting in the equalizer to conclude five minutes of torrid-hot action

BILL TO DEPORT HARRY BRIDGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives committee on immigration gave its approval today to a bill introduced with the single purpose of deporting Harry Bridges, west coast labor leader.

The bill was brought in only yesterday by Representative A. Leonard Allen, Democrat, Louisiana, who said it was the only bill of its kind ever offered.

Dean James M. Landis of the Harvard Law School, acting as a special investigator for the Labor Department, recently held Bridges was not deportable.

"If alien radical agitators escape deportation through some technicality, then Congress ought to step in and see they are deported by congressional mandate," Allen said.

Veterans Offer To Guard Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—A coastal defence corps of men who served in the last war—freeing younger men now serving on defence work for overseas service—is urged by Vancouver veterans.

The ex-16th Battalion and the Canadian Scottish Association of British Columbia report they have drawn attention to military authorities of a proposal to raise a whole battalion in Vancouver for defence work.

The offer was made when war first broke out, but at that time Ottawa authorities said such a move was not necessary.

PARIS (AP)—Henri Roy, Minister of the Interior, ordered today the creation of a "civic guard" in all departments and cities to fight "fifth column" activities and German parachute troops.

Tourist Season Gets Under Way

When Miss Daphne Covernton, Victoria representative of the "Ask Mr. Foster Bureau," took charge of her desk at the Empress Hotel this morning, the tourist season got into its stride.

From now on Miss Covernton will be besieged by tourists, eager to be informed as to what to do and where to go while spending vacations in Victoria.

Her duties are legion and her fund of information inexhaustible. She is one of the most capable assistants in this continental-wide information service and travel will be made easier for tourists consulting her.

Tourist travel is picking up rapidly, it was shown today, in a check-up of the city hotels and the travel and sightseeing companies.

"Our house-count is much larger than it was last year at this period," said J. K. Hodges, manager of the Empress Hotel, today. "The reservations are heavy and we expect one of the busiest seasons we have ever experienced. We look for the rush of travel to start by early in June."

Many Californians are already coming in and the number plates of cars from various states are to be seen daily on the streets of the city.

Holiday visitors here today include people from the Hawaiian Islands.

Eastern Canadians are coming in considerable numbers, as well as tourists from the eastern and southern states.

People here from the south today include a party from Denver, Colorado, who intend to stay at the Empress for a couple of weeks.

Victoria is annually a popular vacation resort for Denver people.

During the season it is expected that many cinema stars will come here to spend extended vacations.

The next week or two will doubtless see a marked increase in Victoria's tourist business.

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command asserted tonight it could no longer regard Brussels as an undefended city because of alleged troop movements there.

Seek Reduced Bus Drivers' Fee

Reduction of the $7.50 fee for bus drivers' licenses to a nominal fee of $1 was requested of the provincial government today by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

A delegation headed by E. F. Fox, president, met Hon. John Hart, Hon. Gordon Wismer and Hon. A. Wells Gray.

They contended the fee was an unjust tax on a man's right to earn a living. A nominal fee covering any necessary tests of competency was all that should be required, they said.

A close study of the whole situation was promised by Mr. Hart.

Communist Ban Up to Ottawa

Outlawing of the Communist Party of Canada by the Supreme Court of Ontario became a live topic today as demands for suppression of possible "fifth column" and subversive activities increased in volume.

In British Columbia Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said administration of the War Measures Act, under which the Ontario ruling was made, was a matter for federal authorities. So far he has received no word on the matter from Ottawa, but B.C. has pledged assistance to federal authorities to the limit of its resources in carrying out any war policies that are necessary, he said.

Premier Pattullo, who was in Vancouver today, made no comment. Neither did Fergus McKean, secretary of the Communist Party in B.C., who ran as a Communist candidate in the recent federal election.

Reports from other parts of Canada indicated that while Communism had been declared beyond the pale of the law throughout Canada there was no move for an immediate round-up of known Communists.

Under the broad powers of the wartime Defence of Canada Regulations, Mr. Justice E. R. E. Chevrier of the Ontario Supreme Court, declared formally that the Communist Party of Canada was an illegal organization by virtue of regulation 62 of the regulations.

That regulation provides that once an organization has in such manner been declared illegal, not only are all persons continuing as members or officers deemed guilty of an offence against the regulations, but anybody advocating or defending the acts, principles and policies of such an organization is also guilty.

NO INSTRUCTIONS

Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today he had received no instructions so far to institute a Dominion-wide roundup of known Communists. The opinion was expressed by Department of Justice officials that enforcement of that section was a duty of provincial attorneys-general.

Although the ban on Communism was imposed by an Ontario judge, the ruling was considered to be effective throughout Canada, since the Defence of Canada Regulations are effective in every province and the offending organization was national in scope. The provinces are responsible for the administration of justice.

Defence counsel indicated appeal against the conviction might be lodged, in which event the case might be reviewed by the Ontario Appeals Court.

URGES INTERNMENT

In Toronto Attorney-General Gordon Conant of Ontario said Communists and members of other subversive organizations throughout Canada should be interned immediately as enemy aliens now are.

Declaring the nation comes first in wartime, he asked: "Are we going to wait until some major catastrophe occures to wake us up to the fact that there are enemies within our gates, not only aliens but those who are just as dangerous to the nation's existence as many aliens who are now in concentration camps?

"I do not suggest that these offenders should be treated like criminals and confined in penitentiaries and jails. I do urge however, that they be detained in internment camps with provisions similar to those which apply in the case of enemy aliens.

He reiterated a belief that in such cases the ordinary safeguards that protect accused persons might well be suspended.

Removal of these safeguards would apply only to "Communists, Fascists, Nazis who aim at the destruction of our nation and our civilization." It was "a question as to whether these people who by every conceivable manner and means are undermining our social and political structure should be accorded the means of escape that now prevail," and not a question of removing any safeguards for ordinary accused persons.

ASK DISFRANCHISEMENT

Mayors of several Ontario cities expressed their approval of the action of the Hamilton city council in passing a resolution asking the Canadian government to enact legislation providing for disfranchisement of persons convicted of subversive activities.

The Hamilton resolution was also addressed to the Ontario government with a request that persons found guilty of subversive acts be barred from voting or holding any public office.

Mayor Joseph Meinzinger of Kitchener has ordered police to form a special squad to raid the home of all known Communists and Communist sympathizers in that city. Alleged Communist headquarters in a downtown building in Kitchener will also be raided.

Fire Wrecks Old Helmcken Home

An old landmark, the former Helmcken summer home on Belmont Beach at the western side of Esquimalt Harbor, was destroyed by fire last night. The origin of the fire had not been determined by Provincial Police today. The building, which was quite old, was not insured.

Flames from the heavily-constructed building could be seen from many parts of the city. The fire started at 7 and burned for several hours. A detachment of sailors from the Naval Barracks crossed the harbor by boat, but as the fire had gained too strong a hold their efforts to put it out by buckets were fruitless.

While it was feared for a time sparks might ignite the buildings of the Songhees Timber Company, a few hundred yards distant, a change in the wind cleared up this danger. Provincial Police and a B.C. Forest Service fire warden stood by to prevent further spreading of flames to near-at-hand timber.

The late Dr. J. S. Helmcken, who came to Victoria in 1850, originally owned the beautiful Rosebank property on which the half-century old house stood. Later the property was given to his son, the late H. D. Helmcken, for whom the house was built. The Helmcken family used it many years as a summer home, which became noted as something of a show place. Shortly after Mr. Helmcken's death, the property was acquired by F. D. Pemberton, W. P. D. Pemberton and the Lewis estate.

Merchants Protest Parking Changes

Change in parking regulations on Douglas Street, which they describe as causing a serious financial loss, is the source of a complaint from merchants, taxpayers and tenants contained in a petition filed at the City Hall this morning.

The petition was filed by P. J. Sinnott acting for the interested parties and contains names of 70 Douglas Street merchants, from Pandora Avenue to Broughton Street, who are protesting the change from angle to parallel parking.

Mr. Sinnott asks the opportunity to address the council on behalf of his clients who claim the limitation of available parking space has meant a serious drop in their revenues.

Premier Pattullo last night went to Vancouver where he will make a radio address on the recent gasoline "crisis" and subsequent legislation. Time of his address has been changed to 8.45 over CJOR.

NOTABLE CONCERT SERIES ARRANGED

Five outstanding attractions have been arranged by Hilker Attractions for their subscription concert series in Victoria next season. Following the custom of other major centres, an advance spring sale has been opened on the series.

A Victoria appearance has at last been arranged for the great Metropolitan tenor, Richard Crooks, who will star in the Hilker series, appearing in early January 1941. Acknowledged as the greatest tenor voice of this continent today, Crooks comes to Victoria on the crest of a wave of popularity which has placed his name with the fabulous great of past eras.

The inimitable Don Cossacks will provide the exciting opening event of the season when the Royal Victoria will echo to the stirring rhythm of Cossack song.

Providing the novelty highlight will be Vronsky and Babin, dynamic two-piano team whose spectacular playing have made the art of two-piano playing one of the most popular events on eastern concert series. They will provide the concluding presentation of the season coming here in April 1941

Mischa Elman, immortal of the violin, will bring his superb art to the Royal Victoria Theatre next March. This towering figure of the violin world at last returns to this city to present an inspiring evening for his many worshippers.

The return of the superb Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo will again provide the outstanding evening of the entire season. The complete company of 125, including Symphony Orchestra, will present an entirely new repertoire for one evening only next January.

PLAZA HOLDS SMART COMEDY

Robertson Hare and Alfred Drayton, famous British comic team, are starred in the new 20th Century-Fox release, "So This Is London," which is at the Plaza Theatre. The film boasts a strong supporting cast, and is as funny as when George M. Cohan starred in the Broadway production of the same farce.

CADET THEATRE

Vast, impressive settings, thousands of players and a magnificent cast including Charles Laughton, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Thomas Mitchell, Maureen O'Hara and Walter Hampden feature RKO Radio's spectacular screen version of the Victor Hugo story, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," now at the Cadet Theatre.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham Drug Store or any druggist a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is highly recommended, is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

DOMINION THEATRE

Ann Sheridan, red-headed screen star, gets her first big dramatic opportunity in "Castle on the Hudson," new film drama now at the Dominion Theatre, in which she is co-starred with John Garfield and Pat O'Brien.

"Castle on the Hudson" is the soul-baring story of lives beyond the barrier of law. It is a powerful story of passions, hatred and love with an intricate plot perfectly timed for suspense.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"Thinking of You," Kay Kyser's theme song which introduces all his radio programs and which he is using in his debut picture, "That's Right—You're Wrong," now at the Oak Bay Theatre, has been his favorite since 1926, the year it was published by Walter Donaldson. Kay's college orchestra featured it at "proms" at the University of North Carolina. Adolphe Menjou is co-starred with Kay in this RKO Radio comedy.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR 2 ASSAULTERS

TORONTO (CP) — Life imprisonment and 20 lashes were the sentences imposed today by Mr. Justice J. Keiller MacKay on Tony Bello and Leonard Hill, convicted of criminally assaulting the 28-year-old wife of a Royal Canadian Air Force officer.

Hill's brother, David, received 15 years and 15 lashes on a similar charge.

Each faced three separate counts. The life sentences and lashes were imposed on the most serious charge; other life sentences for a second revolting offence. In addition, Bello received a concurrent term of eight years for robbery with violence and Hill 10 years on this count.

David Hill's sentence covered all three counts.

The charge arose from an attack April 3 in which the men were said to have forcibly urged the woman, formerly of Regina, into an automobile, driven her to a lonely suburb, where each assaulted her. On the return to Toronto they allegedly struck her and took rings, watch and money.

Maximum penalty on the most serious of the three charges is death by hanging and, in passing sentence, Mr. Justice Mackay said:

"The horror, the detestation, the vileness and the grim reality of your crime cries out to high heaven and the expiation should be made on the gallows. But, a long-suffering society recoils and shrinks from the exaction of the death penalty, except where human life is taken, and reviewing authorities might commute your punishment to that less commensurate with the gravity of the crime than the one I am about to impose."

According to evidence at the trial, the woman was waiting for a street car at a busy intersection, on her way to visit a hospital. A stranger in the city, she was accosted by the three men in a car. After urging and a shove, she got in, the men promising to take her where she wanted to go. After the assault and robbery, she was shoved from the machine.

Senator Bourgeois Dies Suddenly

THREE RIVERS, Que. (CP) — Senator Charles Bourgeois, a Conservative member of the Senate since 1935, died suddenly here today in his 61st year.

A native of Three Rivers, Senator Bourgeois had lived here most of his life. His parliamentary career began in 1931 when he was elected to the House of Commons as Conservative member for Nicolet in a by-election. He had contested the seat in 1926, but had been defeated. He was summoned to the Senate August 15, 1935.

He held B.A. and LL.M. degrees from Laval University, and an LL.D. from Ottawa University. He was called to the bar in 1905 and created a King's Counsel in 1918.

Relatives surviving him include a son, Claude, and a daughter, Marguerite.

(Death of Senator Bourgeois reduced the Conservative representation in the Upper Chamber to 49 members and brought a vacancy in the Senate less than a week after the body had been brought to full strength. Liberals have 46 members, the 46th being Hon. W. D. Euler, former Trade and Commerce Minister, who was appointed to the Red Chamber only last Friday).

Funeral Notice

The funeral of the late Comrade A. J. Reed, 67th Bn., will take place Thursday, 16th instant, at 2 p.m., in St. Paul's Garrison Church, Esquimalt. Members of Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. are requested to attend.

R. KNIGHT,
President
S. W. NORMAN SAUNDERS,
Secretary.

'PINOCCHIO' On ATLAS SCREEN

As one of its thousands of details, one of the music box scenes in Walt Disney's second full-length production, "Pinocchio," at the Atlas Theatre, shows a little four-piece orchestra. As the old toymaker, Geppetto, winds up the music box, the little, frock-coated, be-whiskered conductor raps his baton on his music rack and then begins to conduct his men. One is a plump, bald-headed accordionist, one is a whistler whose Tyrolean hat pops up every time he utters a note, and another is a violinist who draws his tiny bow across the strings.

The production, all in Technicolor, released by RKO Radio, is replete with scores of fantastic little instruments, clocks and toys which further the plot at times with their gay antics.

'Virginia City' at Capitol Tomorrow

In "Virginia City," new Warner Bros. epic of the west in its rip-roaringest days, Miriam Hopkins is surrounded by a veritable galaxy of male virility headed by Errol Flynn, Randolph Scott and Humphrey Bogart. The picture opens at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

Not only does Miss Hopkins have two of the screen's handsomest men trying to lead her into cinematic marriage, but she has what amounts to a dual role as well. As a lovely and loyal southern belle she is working as a spy for the Confederate government near the close of the Civil War. In order to carry on her spying activities she poses as a singing, dancing, flirting dancehall queen in the wide-open Sazerac Saloon in Virginia City.

In Actor Family

John Payne, who plays Robert Lincoln with Raymond Massey in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," at the Royal Victoria Theatre Thursday evening, is the son of B. Iden Payne, famous English director and actor.

Young Payne left Cambridge to enter London's noted Embassy School of Acting, which has given the stage many of its greatest actors. Upon the outbreak of war he reported to the British consulate for military service, but was rejected and told to continue on tour with "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

BRITISH IMPRESSION OF DR. F. ROUTLEY

In connection with Dr. Fred Routley's recent visit to London concerning Canadian Red Cross activities the Daily Sketch in a recent issue says:

"Dr. Routley has his headquarters in London. He is now on his way to Canada to settle outstanding financial problems connected with his work. He has so far spent £200,000 on preparatory work in this country. One of his jobs has been converting Cliveden, Lord Astor's place, into what will be the largest Canadian hospital here. Dr. Routley combines charm and hustle, looks about 50 and has the vigor of 25. He drives his own car in the London blackout with the virtuosity of a taximan. Before he left he had a day with R. B. Bennett, chairman of the British committee of the Canadian Red Cross, who had just returned from Canada. He put Mr. Bennett, also a hustler, 'au fait' with what he had done here. Their conference lasted seven hours."

Dr. Routley will address a meeting, free to the public, on the subject, "Your Red Cross in Action," in the Empress Hotel ballroom at 4.30 tomorrow afternoon, under the auspices of the local branch.

RIO THEATRE

Because it was necessary for Boris Karloff to twist his head and neck to one side for fully half of the production, a masseur was in constant attendance on the star during the filming of "The Man They Could Not Hang," now at the Rio Theatre.

C.N.R. Traffic Changes Made

WINNIPEG—Three important changes in passenger traffic department of the Canadian National Railways are announced today by R. Creelman, passenger traffic manager for the company western lines. They affect the Manitoba and Alberta district offices and the passenger office at Jasper Park Lodge. All appointments are effective June 1. Tom McDonough, formerly district passenger agent for Alberta, returns to Jasper as general agent, passenger department, with headquarters at Jasper Park Lodge. S. M. Greene, formerly district passenger agent at Winnipeg, is appointed to take charge of the Alberta district with headquarters at Edmonton.

M. J. Dupuis, formerly chief clerk in the passenger traffic manager's office, is appointed district passenger agent for Manitoba with headquarters at Winnipeg. Mr. McDonough is well known to the traveling public. His "10-gallon" hat is a familiar method of identification to the tourists staying over at Jasper. Mr. Greene entered the transportation service in 1908 and is known in western Canada, having previously been located at Saskatoon and Regina before coming to Winnipeg in 1934. Mr. Dupuis was with the Great Northern for many years prior to joining the Canadian Northern in 1914 as rate clerk. After a few years in Saskatoon he returned to Winnipeg and has since held the position of chief clerk. He is a well-known figure in railway transportation circles.

Mr. Creelman has just returned to Winnipeg after paying a visit to Victoria.

No Alaska Whaling

SEATTLE (AP)—William P. Schupp, president of the American Pacific Whaling Company, announced today that because of the low price for whale oil the company would not operate this year. The company has stations at Akutan and Port Hebron in Alaska.

Main Fleet Unit Sails

HONOLULU (AP)—The main unit of the United States fleet steamed out of Pearl Harbor yesterday led by 10 battleships and light cruisers. Their departure ended the two-weeks' stay here of 140 warships that participated in the 1940 mid-Pacific war games.

Most of the departing ships were bound for Lahaina Roads, where they are to join 50 ships that sailed Monday in new tactical manoeuvres.

Admiral James O. Richardson, fleet commander-in-chief, will keep the fleet at training exercises in Hawaiian waters for an indefinite period.

RAILWAYMAN KILLED

CALGARY (CP) — Frederick Herman "Frank" Meade, 49, veteran C.P.R. switchman, was instantly killed last night when he was crushed between two railway tank cars in the Alyth yards in East Calgary.

Meade had apparently misjudged the distance and was caught between the moving cars, workers said.

FATHER HUBBARD ON NEW EXPEDITION

Rev. Father Bernard R. Hubbard, the "Glacier priest," who invariably comes to Victoria after his expeditions to rest at St. Joseph's Hospital, sailed with three companions from Seattle yesterday on his 1940 expedition to Alaska.

From Juneau the party will take the United States coastguard cutter Haida, which will land them at a point on the Alaska Peninsula, where a base camp will be established.

The season's program includes a visit to Veniaminof, the volcano, another trip to Mount Aniakchak and a trip up the Kobuk River, above the Arctic Circle.

May 24 Excursion

The first big all-day water excursion of the season will be run by the C.P.R. to Seattle on the May 24 holiday, it is announced by James Macfarlane, general agent for the company.

The steamship Princess Elizabeth, which has been selected to make the cruise, will sail from the Belleville Street docks at 9 a.m., and will leave Seattle at 5 in the afternoon on the return trip.

Upwards of 1,000 people are expected to take in the excursion.

Killed in South

Arthur Bennett, 61, former British Columbia shipbuilder, was killed in an auto crash at Lomita, Cal., at the week-end.

He was well known as a builder of small craft and between 1911 and 1927 was identified with the Vancouver ferry No. 5, the yacht Cora Mae and the fireboat J. H. Carlisle.

200 U.S. Vessels Involved in Deal

NEW YORK (CP) — The Daily News said today "possibly the largest single shipping deal" in United States history has been completed with purchase by Great Britain of more than 200 American trawlers, lake boats and outdated freighters.

Agents for the British Ministry of Shipping will apply immediately to the United States Maritime Commission for formal approval, the newspaper added.

The flotilla will make the Atlantic voyage under direction of a group of old Singapore pilots and retired ship officers sent here from England, the News said.

It was said the boats were bought to relieve the strain on other vessels now transporting munitions and supplies to French Channel ports.

Fishery Rules Affect Traps

Fishery regulations for the season have just been issued by Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for the Dominion government.

Chief changes are as follows: An additional two weeks' protection is given ling cod in December.

Pilchard purse seines, formerly limited to 250 fathoms length, are now allowed to be 275 fathoms on the west coast waters.

Fishing for any but scientific reasons is prohibited on the Fraser River, between Anderson Creek and Williams Creek, about two miles above Hell's Gate.

Salmon gill nets longer than 150 fathoms are not permitted east of a line drawn south magnetic through Point Garry observatory.

The opening spaces or gates of fish traps to allow escapement of fish are doubled this year.

Net fishing for commercial purposes is now permitted on Fraser Lake.

NEWFOUNDLAND AGENT

LONDON (CP Cable) — The Ministry of Shipping announced today that Eric Bowring, managing director of Bowring Brothers Limited, has been appointed representative of the Department in Newfoundland.

HIGHER WAGES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officials of the Powell River Company and Pacific Mills Ltd., said today an agreement providing for higher wages had been signed with the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers and the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers.

The new agreement provides employees of the two newsprint manufacturing companies with plants at Powell River, B.C., and Ocean Falls, B.C., with one week's vacation with pay and an increase to bring the base rate of pay up to 56 cents per hour and a corresponding increase on all rate classifications in the mills.

Hit on Destroyer Only Casualty Of British Navy

LONDON (CP)—The destroyer Valentine has been beached after being damaged by German air attack off the coast of Holland, the Admiralty announced tonight. Casualties are believed to have been slight.

The 1,100-ton Valentine, classified technically as an escort ship, normally carried nearly 200 men. She was built as a destroyer in 1917, but was rearmed as an escort vessel in 1938-39.

The Admiralty said the information of damage to the Valentine was received following issuance of a statement which said that no British warships, with the exception of the lost British submarine Seal, had been "sunk, set on fire or seriously damaged" since Germany invaded the Lowlands.

The loss of the Seal was announced several days ago.

The Admiralty statement said:

"Germany continues to pursue the technique of making large and entirely groundless claims of British losses at sea.

"Germany has claimed that yesterday, off the Dutch coast, two cruisers and one destroyer were sunk and one cruiser and one 15,000-ton steamer set on fire by bombs and an 8,000-ton steamer severely damaged by bombs.

LARGE CLAIMS

"Since the German invasion of the Low Countries Germany has claimed that four cruisers and two destroyers have been sunk and two cruisers heavily damaged in Dutch waters.

"Claims to have sunk and seriously damaged other naval units of His Majesty's fleet in Norwegian waters have also been made.

"In fact, no British warship has been sunk, set on fire or seriously damaged since the German invasion of the Low Countries, with the exception of H.M. submarine Seal. This loss was announced by the Admiralty May 12 in accordance with the declared policy of announcing all losses.

"Claims of loss or serious damage by air attack to transports and merchant ships are equally untrue.

"No mishap has befallen any British transport or supply ship during the Netherlands campaign.

"The German claim to have set fire to a 25,000-ton ship may have its origin in published reports that fires in Rotterdam spread to the Dutch liner Statendam, 28,291 tons, which was lying alongside a quay. Nothing is known of any damage to an 8,000-ton ship."

NANAIMO BY-LAW ON HALL PROJECT

NANAIMO — The property formerly occupied by the Union Brewery on Dunsmuir Street, will be purchased to be rebuilt as a city hall, it was decided at Monday night's council session.

Before a rebuilding is undertaken, it will be necessary to submit a by-law to the ratepayers to approve the necessary expenditure. The property is being purchased "as city property," and if the ratepayers reject the city hall proposal, the city may use the property or sell it for an industrial site, according to Alderman William Greives.

In previous negotiations the price of the site had been mentioned as in the neighborhood of $1,200.

Fire Chief Bramley Benton voiced a strong objection to the council regarding the practice of car and truck drivers double parking on Commercial Street on Saturday nights. Last Saturday night, while answering a fire alarm, the fire truck was obliged to stop when a coach blocked traffic on Front Street. Chief Benton warned that accidents would occur if the practice of irregular parking was not stopped. His letter was referred to the fire warden.

WHEAT EXPORTS UP

OTTAWA (CP)—Domestic exports of wheat rose to 5,081,736 bushels valued at $4,771,315 in April from 2,831,612 at $1,646,190 in April, 1939, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. The average export price was 93.8 cents compared with 58.

Exports of wheat flour also was heavier at 519,870 barrels at $2,167,097 compared with 275,275 at $825,277. The average export price was $4.17 compared with $3.

KOOTENAY BELL PRODUCTION

TORONTO (CP) — Kootenay Belle Gold Mines, Nelson, B.C., reports production for April approximated $35,000 from treatment of 3,500 tons of ore, compared with $48,536 taken from 3,688 tons in March. Output for the first four months of the year stands at $173,707 from 14,664 tons, against $20[illegible]630 from 17,019 tons in the same period of 1939.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—All wheat futures prices plunged the full 10-cent limits during the final minutes of trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today after fluctuating actively at lower levels throughout the session. Quotations finished the hectic session 10 cents down, May at 74⅞, July 75⅞ and October 78⅛.

Selling came from all sides as traders unloaded wheat into the panicky pit. Bottom levels were touched shortly after the start, and despite good resting orders and short-covering, quotations failed to stage a sustained comeback.

It was suggested that some of the heavy offerings came out in connection with the unwinding of spreads involving sales here against purchases at Chicago.

Coarse grain trade was featured by the firm stand of oats quotations which posted 2-cent gains, while all other grains plunged to lower levels.

Flax values dropped the 10-cent limits early in the session and remained there, while barley prices touched their lowest points since last September and rye their bottom levels since October.

In the cash wheat market, exporters and milling interests bought fair amounts of Nos. 2 and 3 northern, and there was a fair demand for all other grades except No. 1 hard and No. 1 northern.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat prices collapsed again today, dropping 10 cents a bushel for the second consecutive session, as traders dumped millions of bushels of grain because of the pessimistic war news coming from Europe.

Prices closed as low as trading rules would permit in today's session and were the lowest since early last winter.

The market had shown some signs of rallying earlier in the session but renewed selling in the final hour caught the pit without support. Wheat finished 9¾ to 10 cents lower than yesterday, May 85¾ to 86, July 85⅝ to 85⅞.

War Stocks Act Better

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market swung up and down like a roller-coaster today in the most active dealings since the first flush of the war-boom last September.

Transfers approximated 4,000,000 shares, almost 500,000 more than yesterday's boiling decline.

Up fractions to 3 points or so were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Douglas, Glenn Martin, Lockheed, General Electric and American Airlines. Dupont gained about 5.

Lower by a few cents to as much as 5 points were other leaders, including J. I. Case, Eastman, Southern Railway, Kennecott, Anaconda, Montgomery Ward, Western Union and American Smelting.

The morning about-face was one of the most rapid shifts in market currents Wall Street has seen in many months.

Dupont, down nearly 2 points at the opening, swung to a gain of 6 in a few minutes. The buying orders were so numerous and offers so few in Bethlehem Steel that trading in those shares was suspended for several minutes, and the services of a governor of the exchange were necessary to get matters straightened out.

Canadian stocks were mixed. Dome Mines and Lake Shore made fractional gains while Canadian Pacific and Distillers Corporation were weaker. Among bonds Canada 4s dropped 1½ points.

Rock of Gibraltar Remains Mighty Fort

If you look at a map showing southern Europe and northern Africa you will find a place where Spain seems almost to touch Africa. The water between is the Strait of Gibraltar.

The Strait of Gibraltar is the only waterway from the Atlantic Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea. Any nation which can control the strait will have great help in time of war.

A few years ago Mussolini sent thousands of Italian soldiers to Spain to help General Franco. It seems likely that one of his objects was to work toward a time when he could seize power over the Strait of Gibraltar. With Franco as his friend, his forces might try to blast the British from the Rock of Gibraltar.

The strait is 36 miles long. The widest part measures 23 miles. The narrowest part is only 8½ miles wide.

With modern cannon it is quite simple to fire across the strait. Some huge cannon will send a shell to a distance of 60 miles or more. We are told that the aim is not good at such a distance, but it is easy to bombard a point 10 or 15 miles away.

Ceuta, a Spanish seaport city, is across the strait from the Rock of Gibraltar. The distance between is about 15 miles. If Mussolini's soldiers use Ceuta as a base, they might do a great deal of damage to the Rock of Gibraltar.

Let no one suppose, however, that the capture would be easy. The Rock of Gibraltar still remains one of the world's mighty forts.

The Rock of Gibraltar is a huge mass of rock, mostly limestone. It rises to a height of 1,408 feet, which means it is higher than the Empire State Building.

A hundred and sixty years ago the Rock of Gibraltar was under attack by Spain. The attacks lasted more than three years, and in the end they failed. That gave the Rock the name of being a fort which no one could capture.

A modern attack would mean bombardment from land, sea and air. The battle might prove hard, but I think the Rock of Gibraltar would last through a very long siege.

HOROSCOPE

Benefic aspects rule today, although adverse influences are active. There is a sign indicating a tendency to deceive, and dishonest methods are likely to multiply while this configuration prevails.

This is an auspicious day for women and their interests. It is a favorable date to entertain and enjoy festivities of the lighter vein. The evening is lucky for girls, who may meet young men able to add to the interest of living. The stars do not promise success for women who seek profitable employment.

Uncertainty may be the reason for a slight slackening of trade and a general reluctance regarding new investments.

The United States' neutrality will assume many unusual aspects as statesmen discuss international policies. Isolation will be recognized as a forgotten idea.

Great Britain continues under planetary influences that indicate temporary trouble in Palestine, India and the Mediterranean. The death of a statesman of high rank is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune to which love affairs contribute happiness. Middle-aged romances are forecast.

Children born on this day probably will be discreet, energetic and industrious. They have the possibility of extraordinary success, for they are likely to be extremely talented.

METCHOSIN

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

ANSWER: Tests seem to indicate that the core of the earth is an iron-nickel alloy.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—Is it outmoded for a girl to be decent? I am a good-looking girl, well placed socially and attractive to men. When I meet a young man he nearly always asks for a date, but when he finds out that I refuse to pet and neck and permit the familiarities that boys demand nowadays, that is the last time I see him. They tell me that I am old-fashioned and that I will never be popular. They say that boys expect girls to allow them to take liberties with them and that they think nothing of it, nor have less respect for the girl. Tell me, what is a girl supposed to be like in these days? What do men expect of her? Most important of all, how can a girl travel the strait and narrow path when every man she meets is trying to pull her off of it? Does it pay for a girl to be good in this modern age? SALLY.

Answer: Yes, Sally, it pay for a girl always to be good. It pays in health and happiness. It pays for a girl to be pure, just as it pays for a man to be honest, notwithstanding the fact that the loose-living girls have the most beaux and the thieves seem to make the most money. But that is for the short haul. For the long pull of life virtue wins out.

The right sort of men don't pick out play girls for wives. Such girls usually marry men who have as little principle as they have themselves, and as neither trusts the other they almost always land in the divorce courts. And if the girl who has been many men's girl does fall in love with a decent man she has either to endure the shame of confessing her past to him and risk losing him, or else go through life in fear of his finding out about her.

I admit that life is very difficult for the girls of today, who have high ideals that they are trying to live up to. They have all the craving for pleasure, the desire for the admiration of men. They want to love and be loved just as women have always done from the beginning of time. Now they are in a measure debarred from gratifying these instincts by the breaking down of the moral code that so long has been the protection of the young girl. No longer does man's chivalry make the girl whose skirts are clean an object of veneration. His bestiality makes her muddying them the price of his attentions.

ALLIES BLAST NAZIS AT NARVIK

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The newspaper Tidningen today said Allied bombardments in the last few days had devastated the Arctic Norwegian port of Narvik and that the German garrison could not possibly hold the town much longer.

The Nazi troops were said to have been kept supplied by planes, which also have added reinforcements by parachute. They were reported well equipped with automatic arms, although lacking in artillery.

The Tidningen's special correspondent said fresh French troops and tanks had been landed from transports for an assault on the town.

The newspaper Social Demokraten printed a story from a correspondent in Norway declaring German air bases in the central and southern part of the country were being bombed nightly by the British, which arrive regularly about 11 p.m.

Bishop Manning Urges U.S. Aid to Allies

NEW YORK (AP)—Bishop William T. Manning told 600 delegates to the 157th annual convention of the New York diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church that "we owe our fullest help, both moral and material," to Britain, France and their Allies.

"I should like to see one of the candidates for the Presidency come out and take his stand on that platform," he added.

By "material" assistance he said he meant "everything we can send them, short of sending troops, which we can not do because we are not prepared to do that."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Gophers Gassed

EDMONTON (CP) — Deadly acid gas was being used today by the Alberta government to wipe out gophers feared to be carriers of the sylvatic plague. Government officials said the campaign begun two days ago was being concentrated on certain areas in the southeastern part of the province.

Sylvatic plague is a form of plague that is carried by rodents and is transmissable to human beings through direct contact, such as through an abrasion of the skin.

This is the first time Alberta has used gas to kill off gophers.

Island Hostels Proving Popular

This summer hosteling is expected to prove popular among the youth of Victoria and the Island with the establishment of numerous new hostels in the northwest. The hostels are available to anyone who is a member of the Canadian or American youth hostel associations.

Information regarding hosteling can be secured from Alf Batcheler, organizing secretary, the British Columbia Region of the Canadian Youth Hostel Association at the Parliament Buildings.

Youth hostels are a day's hike or bike apart, designed for people who want to enjoy the outdoors for a week-end or longer at little expense.

Island hostels are at Mount Douglas Park, Milne's Landing, Shawnigan Lake, Westholme and Yellow Point.

Saturday a party of Victoria High School students will cycle to the Shawnigan Lake hostel for the week-end. Miss H. Doull, physical instructress of the school, and Mr. Batcheler will be in charge.

Tomato Really Fruit

The tomato, technically, is classed as a berry by botanists, and, as such, it would also be classed as a fruit. Government bureaus, however, class it as a vegetable, and it is popularly and commercially known as such.

Residents of the community co-operated with the society and those who did not attend the fair sent in their donations to the officials in charge.

Among those who attended the fair were Brig.-Gen. J. G. Austin, president of the Victoria and district branch of the Red Cross Society. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grimison, executives of the Victoria branch.

Stalls were in charge of the following: R. Rivers, W. Hinchcliffe, W. Thompson, A. Petford, N. McNaughton, G. Mead-Robins, Mrs. C. Dixon, Mrs. N. McNaughton, Miss I. Goldie, Mrs. W. Taylor, Mrs. R. Troup, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. A. Petford, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. A. J. Peirce, Captain and Mrs. D. A. McNaughton and J. Doran.

A large number of prizes given at the various stalls were donated by local firms. The committee of the James Island Red Cross branch were thanked for their work in making the affair a success.

URGES GRADUATES FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

EDMONTON (CP) — Life is made up of service and the highest freedom and highest liberty are found in service, said J. H. Woods of Calgary yesterday in urging 453 University of Alberta graduates to use their wisdom to "its limit in the interest of our country."

The graduate procession entered the McDougall Auditorium at 2:15 p.m., led by Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, president of the university, and other dignitaries.

Mr. Woods, pioneer western newspaper publisher and executive who received an honorary Doctor of Law degree prior to delivering the university's 30th annual convocation address, left this message with the graduates:

"Take with you as your guiding star the love of liberty and the determination to fight for it, as some of you will have to do before today is merged into a new future."

Police Whistle Trill

A policeman's whistle has no vibrating object. The trill in it is due to the fact that the whistle is a double pipe affair, with one pipe producing a note of 10 to 15 vibrations more per second than the other, causing them to get out of step and back in step again in rapid succession.

Loafing Caused Changes

Flatfishes originated from a species of sea-perch that "lay down on the job" while awaiting prey, according to scientists. These fish reclined so much that their eyes migrated to the top side, and the bottom side lost its colorings.

ALERT'S POWER DRIVE IN LAST MINUTES WINS BOXLA

that practically had the floor smoking.

It was nip-and-tuck for many minutes after that. Before the quarter ended each team notched once again to finish deadlocked 12 to 12. Early in final half play Art Chapman converted Austie Cullin's pass to give Bays their first lead and rapid-fire goals by Jack Sargent and Ralph Baker hoisted James Bay into a 15 to 12 lead before the Alerts got down to work and started whittling the opposition's margin. Two beautiful tries by Wally Williams found the hemp and the pro-Alert crowd nearly brought the house down when cool, Carl Ovcharich came in close to plant the evener, 15 to 15.

At this point the Bays started to fade and with time drawing close were soon hopelessly out of the running. Little Jimmy Pickford found the hemp three times more for Alerts, Norm Coates twice and Buzz Brown once. Those were just six of a deluge of shots poured at Goalie Art McKim in those dying minutes during a heavy Alert artillery fire.

McKIM ONE FINE GOALIE

James Bay, the fans agree, should congratulate themselves that they have such a fine goaltender as McKim. For, if it hadn't been for him a mountainous score would have been raised against the orangeshirts. A great many times during the game he stopped shots that appeared to have sure tickets for the goal.

Alerts on the whole was the smoother team on the night's play. Their combination work was good and their marksmanship plenty dangerous. Bays' were quite erratic in their efforts to score in the first two periods and in late play.

The big little man of the evening on the Alerts team was diminutive Jimmy Pickford. This built-close-to-the ground chap found the goal six times during the evening, blond-haired Carl Ovcharich netting four and assisting others. Alerts' Norm Coates also got four. Ralph Baker turned in a great game for Alerts and Tom Carney, defenceman, did valuable work. Austie Cullin and Art Chapman worked hard for Bays.

In the preliminary game Douglas Tire took over the leadership in junior company by humbling McLean's, 13 to 7.

YES, BUT A BLOW-OUT JERKS THE STEERING WHEEL RIGHT OUT OF YOUR HANDS..

I STILL SAY SKIDS ARE MUCH WORSE!.... WHEN YOUR CAR STARTS TO SPIN YOU CAN'T TELL WHERE YOU'LL LAND...

WHY ARGUE? NEW GOODRICH TIRE PROTECTS AGAINST BOTH SKIDS AND BLOW-OUTS

● Here's an argument you can't win. Because when figures prove that thousands are killed or injured every year by skids and blow-outs, you need to watch out for both!

Ever see a tire sweep wet roads dry? As the never-ending spiral bars of the Silvertown Life-Saver Tread roll over the wet road, they act like a whole battery of windshield wipers—sweep the water right and left from under the tire—actually leave a track so dry you can light a match on it. It's easy to see why you get the quickest non-skid stops you've ever had.

But inside every Silvertown is another great invention just as vital to your driving safety—the new improved Golden Ply. This exclusive Goodrich feature resists the terrific internal tire heat that causes so many of today's high-speed blow-outs—provides you with scientific protection against these blow-outs.

Don't take chances on skids OR blow-outs. See your nearest Goodrich Dealer about putting Silvertowns on your car now.

THIS NEW SEAL-O-MATIC LIFE-SAVER TUBE MAKES YOUR DRIVING SAFER!
Seal-O-Matic Leads in Nine Ways . . .
1. Reduces blow-out danger to a new minimum. 2. Serious cuts reduced to slow leaks instead of blow-outs. 3. Saves tire and tube destruction from blow-outs. 4. Protects you from punctures. 5. Avoids delays and dangers of roadside tire changes. 6. Saves costly accident bills and tire and tube repair expenses. 7. Owners report tires wear up to 25% longer. 8. Seal-O-Matic Tubes outlast tires. 9. Gives tires greater resistance to dangerous hidden bruises.
